PREFACE

Encouragement received from the enthusiastic reception afforded last year's publication leads to the bringing forth of this issue. It is believed to be superior in compilation and coverage.

Successful contacts established with John Ardizzone of San Francisco, Harry Fairfield of Pittsburgh, George Fishwick of Chicago, Peter Formoso of Portland, Ore.; Joseph Kelly of Milwaukee, Millard Lang of Baltimore, Dent McSkimming and Earl Grasser of St. Louis, Arthur Ramsden of Dallas, Nicholaas Steelink of Los Angeles and Jimmy Walder of Philadelphia, have brought the records from these areas within scope. However, because of faulty communications, it is regretted that activities in Boston, Central New York, Cleveland, Connecticut, Detroit, Fall River, Ludlow, New Jersey, Northwestern New York and Seattle, have to go unrecorded.

Thanks are also extended to the following who gave of their time and effort in gathering and supplying the records within their particular sphere, Joe Barriskill and Jim Armstrong of the U.S.S.F.A. office, Dr. G. Randolph Manning, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, Carl Hansen, secretary of the New York State Association, Frank Jenkinson and Erno Schwarcz of the American League, Joe Beck and Hans Chalfon of the German-American League, Jimmy Graham, secretary of the National League, Edwin Loewenstein and Werner Lahm of the Eastern District League, Ernest Bruce, former secretary of the Metropolitan League, Charlie Fink, secretary of the New York Junior Competition, Nicholas Spata and Rowland Patterson of the Public Schools Athletic League and Sgt. Walter Olsewski of the Police Athletic League.

The cooperation rendered by the coaches and physical education directors of the colleges and universities has resulted in a new and extensive chapter recording the highlights of the 1948 intercollegiate season.

While many of the pictures are published for the first time, others are reproduced through the courtesy of Soccer Magazine. Field diagrams are by Anthony Laza.

The willingness with which Erwin Single, Milton Miller, Dick Niven, Ed Duffy, Joe Palone and other contributors are ready to supply material is deeply appreciated.

SEASON 1948-49 ROUNDUP

By Erwin Single, Editor of Soccer

Erwin Single

If nothing else, the 1948-49 soccer season will go down in the record books as the most international ever offered to the U.S. soccer public. It started auspiciously enough with our Olympic team taking a 3-1 and a 4-1 verdict over the Israeli Nationals and the American Soccer League completing the three-game rout with a 3-2 victory. About the same time the Bratislava F.C. of Czechoslovakia made a stopover on its way to Mexico and defeated the Chicago All-Stars 6-1 and on the West Coast, the Atlante F.C. of Mexico, won a six-game series in San Francisco and Los Angeles. In mid-Winter the New York-Americans flew to Havana for the first post-war foreign tour by an American team. Playing three games in seven days, they succeeded in tying Iberia and Juventud Asturiana only to drop a 2-1 decision to the champion Puentes Grandes.

By Spring and Summer, no less than five topnotch European elevens made an appearance here. Belfast Celtics led the parade and ran into surprising opposition from a New York-Brooklyn American League team that held them 2-2 in the opening game. In later games, the Celtics dropped a close one to the New England Select at Fall River, were tied at 3-3 by Philadelphia Nationals and shut out by Sweden's Kamraterna F.C. of Goteborg. But they also won six games of their 10-game tour and wrote a glorious chapter on behalf of Irish soccer when they defeated the world famed Scottish International team by 2-0 in the greatest soccer upset ever witnessed here.

Scotland's international team was the second to arrive, but had been preceded by so much fanfare as a result of winning the Triple Crown of Britain that everyone seemed to expect miracles. Actually, they came up with only one disappointing performance, their 2-0 setback by an inspired Belfast opponent. All other games were won handily enough, including an altogether convincing 4-0 victory over a select United States eleven.

The second topgrade Swedish team to tour the U.S. on successive Summers was the fast young Kamraterna F.C. of Goteborg. The Swedes scored an impressive 3-0 win over Belfast in their American debut, despite a scorching midsummer heat. They won all their remaining exhibitions here except for a tie at Ludlow, Mass., and two straight shutouts by Newcastle United at Toronto and New York.

By all odds the most impressive record was rung up by Newcastle United, the third place English League team, who romped through to a whole flock of onesided victories in Canada and then climaxed their North American tour with 4-0 and 3-0 conquests of Kamraterna.

On the whole each of the four May-June tours rang up a measure of financial success. Crowds were not as large as in previous Liverpool games, but by keeping expenses down and minimizing traveling distances the promoters managed to make ends meet. A different story is that of the colorful Milano Internationalists. The Italian championship eleven, inheriting the title when the Turin F.C. perished in an air disaster, dazzled their followers on the playing field and dished up an exhibition of passwork, position play and dribbling that surpassed anything seen here. But, unfortunately, their league commitments prevented them from arriving here early enough to cash in on the keen international soccer interest that materialize each May. Consequently, games played in mid-July and on short notice at no time drew the crowds that a team of Milano's caliber deserved to attract.

Much was accomplished in the National Challenge Cup. For the first time in years, the cup final was held in Mid-May. A New York State Association team, the New York Sport Club, emerged as dark horse sensation of the cup by defeating N.Y. Americans, Brookhattan-Galicia, Eintracht and Ludlow Gremo-Lusitanias before bowing to the Philadelphia Nationals in the Eastern final. Even then, the Sport Club proved a formidable hurdle. They almost won the game in regulation time, only to fall apart at the seams in overtime while the Nats poured in four goals to win out by 5-1. A fortnight later, the Nationals, dogtired from a hectic schedule, bowed to the Morgan F.C. in the Grand Final by a 4-3 score in a home-and-home series.

Elizabeth S.C. of New Jersey succeeded in dethroning Ponta Delgada, the ofttime amateur cup champions by 2-0 and then went on to win the Eastern final from Eintracht by a total score of 3-1 in a two game series. Pitted against the willing but inexperienced youngsters representing the Zenthoefer Furs S.C. of St. Louis, the Jerseyites had no trouble at all piling up a 6-1 margin to win the cup.

Other cup contests of importance saw the Lighthouse Boys of Philadelphia retain the national junior cup by defeating St. Louis Windsors by 2-1 . . . New York Sport Club winning the New York State Cup from Hota by 2-0 . . . and Philadelphia Nationals winning the Lewis Cup in a closely fought cup final against Kearny Celtics.

Perhaps the most thrilling league championship race since its existence was dished up by the American Soccer League. The lead see-sawed from week to week and on completion Hispano, N. Y. Americans and Philadelphia Nationals wound up in a three-way tie. The Americans then went on to eliminate Hispano in the first playoff, but bowed to the Nationals on a corner kick with the goal score tied at 3-3.

Elizabeth warded off several early season challengers like Newark and Eintracht to keep top laurels in the German-American League's Major Division. Swiss came through with a playoff victory over Prospect Unity to earn promotion into the Major Division, while the venerable Hoboken F.C. will have to vacate its spot in the Big Ten and compete in the Premier Division next season.

National League honors again went to Segura, while New World regained the title in the Eastern District League with the Metropolitan championship still undecided by mid-summer. Staten Island Favorites and Malta are tied in this loop with Sada also having a chance at the playoff if they win a rescheduled game against L.I. Rangers. The winners of the league races in other soccer territories throughout the U.S. will be found elsewhere in this publication.

It was a season blessed by a relatively mild winter . . . a modest scale revival in indoor soccer in a Brooklyn armory . . . an increased influx of foreign booters and more and more graduates from the junior ranks . . . and one which witnessed few personnel changes in official soccer circles except for the death of soccer's elder statesman, Andrew M. Brwon. More and more clubs took the initiative in securing their own playing fields and then turning them into presentable little stadiums. Two famous names passed out of U.S. soccer when the Brooklyn Wanderers and Baltimore Americans ceased to exist and once again a national cupholder, the Simpkins F.C. of St. Louis, failed to defend soccer's most cherished trophy on the very next season after they had won it.

SOCCER, THE UNIVERSAL SPORT

By JAMES ARMSTRONG

Former Executive Secretary, United States Soccer Football Association

Soccer is the one universal and international sport. It is played extensively in almost every country in the world under uniform rules. It is a game that is played by over seventy nations. In most countries, particularly those of Europe and South America, it is the predominating sport, enlisting a large number of participants and commanding an equal, if not a greater, popular appeal than any other single sport. Soccer furnishes, to the highest degree, the principles of open play, swift action, skill, individual effort, team combination, discipline, excitement and thrills. No game could command such universal appeal, no game could be so widely played, no game could have its beginning, as did soccer, at the time of the Roman occupation of ancient Britain, and live down through the centuries, growing and continuing to grow until it has reached out and touched almost every civilized part of the world, unless it was a game that possessed outstanding merit.

The question often arises: "How old is the game of football?" So obscure is its real origin that one might be forgiven for suggesting that possibly Adam kicked an apple around in the Garden of Eden to the amusement of Eve. However, as early as the days of the Odyssey we learn that Nausicaa and her maidens could be discovered "playing at the caitch." Also that the early Greeks had a game in which a small ball was used and which bore rough resemblance to football. In this game the players of one side had to carry the ball over a line defended by the other, by any means in their power. The Romans also had a game in which the follis, a large inflated ball, was used. The follis, however, was undoubtedly a handball, and the game was probably the same as the "balown ball" of the middle ages, in which an inflated ball was knocked into the air and kept as long as possible. All this, however, may have little concern with football except to show that the follis or "balown ball" was the same that was used in the game of football.

It was at Chester, England, centuries ago, that the people played football on Shrove Tuesday, the contemporary historians stating that the first ball used was the head of a Dane who had been captured and slain, and whose head was kicked about for sport. Derby, England, claims that soccer football was established there, also on a Shrove Tuesday, to celebrate a victory of a troop of British warriors who, in the year 217 A. D., defeated a Roman cohort and drove it out of the ancient gates. It is stated in Glover's "History of Derby," that "the faction fights over the ball between the ecclesiastical districts of Derby are said to have been in vogue from about 217 A. D. until 1846." Fitz-Stephen records, in the year 1175, that the London schoolboys "annually upon Shrove Tuesday go into the fields and play at the well-known game of ball."

In the fourteenth century the game appears to have attracted the notice, and drawn the ire, of the authorities. On April 13, 1314, Edward II issued a proclamation forbidding the game as leading to a breach of the peace "forasmuch as there is great noise in the city caused by hustling over large balls from which many evils might arise which God forbid: we command and forbid, on behalf of the king, on pain of imprisonment, such game to be used in the city in future." In 1349 football is mentioned in a statute of Edward III, who objected to the game as tending to discourage the practice of archery, upon which the military strength of the country largely depended. Sheriffs were commanded to suppress "such idle practices" as football. The proclamation, apparently, was of little avail, because forty years afterwards Richard II passed a similar statute (12 Rich. II. c. 6. A. D. 1389) forbidding "all playing at tenise, football and other games" throughout the country. The same statute was re-enacted by Henry IV in 1401, and later by Henry VIII. Similar measures in Scotland failed to persuade the Scots to give up football and golf. In 1457 James III decreed that "footballe and golfe be utterly cryed down and not to be used," but as in 1491 his successor had to prohibit football and golf by a new statute which stated that "in na place of this realme ther be used futeball, golfe or other sik unprofitable sportes." It appears that in Scotland, as in England, the game of football had gained such a foothold as to be strong enough to defy the law. However, in 1497, it is recorded that the high treasurer to James IV paid two shillings for "fut balles," from which we are to assume that James IV took a more favorable view of the sport than did his predecessors. In 1572 Queen Elizabeth issued a proclamation that "no foteballe play be used or suffered within the city of London and the liberties thereof upon pain of imprisonment." For playing football on Sunday, in 1679, one John Wonkell, of Durham, England, was sent to prison for one week and ordered to do penance in church. It is also a matter of record that Oliver Cromwell was a football player; he makes many references to the game in his letters; in one he states that he could well remember the times he had been more afraid of meeting John Wheelwright at football than of anything else in the field, as he was infallibly sure of being tripped by him. In those days games lasted many hours and generally the goals were at the opposite ends of the hamlets or towns. It was lawful to kick an opposing player's shins, trip him, in fact anything went in order to get or keep the ball from an opponent.

The foregoing should be sufficient to indicate the antiquity of the sport. Shakespeare, in his "Comedy of Errors," Act II has this to say:

"Am I so round with you as you with me
That like a football you do spurn me thus?
You spurn me hence and he will spurn me hither;
If I last in this service you must case me in leather."

An excerpt from "King Lear," Act I, Scene IV, shows that tripping and "hacking over" were then considered as natural adjuncts to the game.

"Steward—I'll not be stricken, my lord.
Kent—Nor tripped, neither, you base football player.
Lear—I thank thee, fellow."

Although it may be true that football, or soccer, in those days found no place in the annals of knight errantry, nevertheless it found a warm spot in the hearts of the common people. Though interdicted by kings and queens, it defied and survived the law; fulminated against by prelates, it flourished against their onslaughts; attacked by the pens of writers, it has outlived them all, for it is now played under the same rules all over the civilized world.

Like billiards, bowling and wrestling, three of the oldest sports in the history of mankind, soccer football is believed by many to have had its origin in the Roman empire. An old volume on "Sports and Their Origin," published in 1618, shows six Romans kicking a round object resembling a ball, and, according to the notation on the page on which this illustration appears in this description: "the above depicts the origin of football." Hence, it would seem that, contrary to the general impression that soccer football is purely a British sport, it had its origin in Rome, and was introduced to the ancient Britons by the Roman legions. Soccer football, therefore, has developed down through the ages from a most crude to a highly skilled and scientific game. It is now regulated by rules governing both the game and the players, and it is in every way different today from the form in which it was known and practiced even a hundred years ago. Discovering the real origin of soccer football, however, would be a task beyond the efforts of the greatest historian, and would be as impossible of accomplishment as finding the proverbial needle in the proverbial haystack. Its beginning is far too remote and vague, although it was perhaps the first of all games that mankind engaged in, and possibly, led to other forms of games in which a ball was the objective, such as cricket, croquet, golf, hockey, lacrosse, tennis and similar adaptations.

Soccer football was introduced into the United States gradually, almost timidly in the beginning and its development has been a slow and gradual process extending over a period of almost eighty years. In the 70's, 80's and 90's the game was played in haphazard fashion, mostly by scratch teams made up chiefly of Scotch, Irish and English immigrants, and its progress in those early days was very spasmodic.

In the beginning, New York, Philadelphia and the West Hudson section of New Jersey led the way, quickly followed by Fall River and other New England centers in the east, and by St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Denver and San Francisco in the middle and far West.

It was in the late 70's that a number of teams first appeared in the West Hudson section of New Jersey. The early 80's saw an increase in the number of organized teams and interest in the game began to spread, until 1884, when a few men met in Newark, N. J., for the purpose of discussing the advancement of the game of soccer football in the land of their adoption. In whatever part of the world he may find himself, the Briton and the Celt carries his games along with him, and so it came to pass that at the beginning of season 1884-85, the American Football Association was instituted and became one of the outstanding pioneer organizations. Prior to this time the game may be said to have been unknown to the American public, there being but a few teams scattered here and there throughout the land, and playing on open lots with improvised equipment.

However, the year 1886 appears to have been a red letter one for soccer football in this country. The first game of soccer ever to be played in Central Park, New York City, was played in 1886, one of the contending teams being known as the "Riversides."

In 1886 the first international game was played when a team from New Jersey, selected by the American Football Association from the leading New Jersey teams of that era, representing the United States, invaded Canada, where it met a picked Canadian team in a series of three games. The following year, 1887, the Canadian players came to New Jersey and the same teams engaged in a return three-game series. Both elevens proved to be very evenly matched, each finishing with a record, for the combined series, of two wins, two draws and two defeats.

The game at this time was taking a firm hold in New England, with Fall River, Mass., the stronghold, and in 1886 the Bristol County Soccer League was established. The following year, 1887, the New England Association Football League came into existence. It was also in the middle 80's that the St. Louis Football Association was founded. As in the east, the sport there was confined chiefly to players of Scotch, Irish and English birth. But the year 1890 marked a new epoch in the game's history in that city. It saw the advent of a real American team composed entirely of native St. Louisans. This team bore the name of Kensingtons," and won the pennant that year, and, remarkable to relate, went through the entire season without having a goal scored against it.

About 1890 we first learn of the Churchville Thistles, a team operating in the vicinity of Rochester, N.Y. This team was instrumental, to a great extent, in popularizing soccer in Western New York. It was also in the early 90's that the Pennsylvania Football Union first saw the light of day, but it was not until 1898 that real interest there was manifested in the sport, so much so, that in 1901 a reorganization brought about the formation of the Football Association of Eastern Pennsylvania, the forerunner of the present day powerful Football Association of Eastern Pennsylvania and District. The Denver Association Football Club was first founded in 1892 and re-organized in 1898, in which latter year the famous old "Shamrock" Association Football Club was formed in Cincinnati, Ohio. Season 1902-3 saw the foundation of the California Association Football Union, and on Thanksgiving Day, 1905, soccer had its real inception in Cleveland, Ohio, and in the following year, 1906, the Cleveland Soccer Football League became an accomplished fact.

The visit of the "Pilgrims" to these shores in 1904 did much to place the game on a higher level than it had enjoyed previously. The "Pilgrims" was the first British soccer team to invade this country; it was selected from the leading amateur clubs in England and included several players of international renown, among them the famous Vivian Woodward, England's crack amateur center forward. Twenty-three games were played in all, the invaders winning twenty-one and losing two.

In those early pioneering days all efforts to introduce the game into the universities and colleges met with little success, and it was some time before our institutions of learning could be induced to recognize soccer as a sport. Resistance to its introduction eventually was overcome and the Intercollegiate Association Football League, whose membership at that time comprised Harvard, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Harvard College. Today practically all universities and colleges are playing the sport.

The "William H. Maxwell Trophy" was first put up for annual competition among the high schools of the City of New York in 1906. This trophy is competed for under the auspices of the Public Schools Athletic League and was won for the first time by Morris High School. It was also in 1906 that we were favored with a visit by the famous Corinthian Football Club of London. As in the case of the Pilgrims tour in 1905, this visit did much towards increasing interest in the game, and though many of the matches played were one-sided, there was no lack of enthusiasm. The visitors played sixteen games, of which they won thirteen, lost one and tied two.

The Pilgrim Soccer Football Club again toured this country in 1909, as did the Corinthians in 1911. Our clubs, however, still were no match for the visitors. Twenty-two games were played by the Pilgrims on this tour, and they were victorious in sixteen, tied four, and suffered defeat twice. The Corinthians, on their second visit, engaged in twenty contests. They won eighteen of them, lost one and tied one.

The growth of soccer in this country, as compared to other nations, has been slow, chiefly because it was looked upon as a foreign game and because it was erroneously felt that it lacked that combative element that the American public has come to consider as an essential part of sport. However, interest in the game for the game's sake has been increasing rapidly in recent years. It is one sport adapted for international competition. Over seventy nations play soccer, and therein lies its greatest attractiveness—it is the only game played by almost all the nations on the face of the globe. In Scotland and England attendances of 100,000 and over are not uncommon. In Italy, Austria, Hungary, Germany, France, in practically all European countries crowds ranging from 100,000 and upwards are frequent. The largest stadia in South America, seating from 50,000 to 125,000, were built solely to stage soccer football games.

With the growth of the sport—from those days when unscheduled and impromptu games were played with pick-up teams, to that period in the development and progress of the game when New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New England, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and the States of Missouri, Colorado, Utah and California all had regularly organized leagues with regular schedules of games—came the need for a national organization. It was found to be imperative to gather the loose ends of soccer government throughout the country and to weave them into a national organization of sufficient strength to make rules of qualification and discipline—and to enforce them.

Insofar as the United States is concerned, soccer became a recognized national sport in 1913 with the institution of the United States Football Association, which body was accepted in affiliation with the Federation Internationale de Football Association in 1914. Since that time, while it is true progress has not been exactly meteoric, it has nevertheless been in keeping with the efforts spent upon its development. Approximately 3,000 teams, consisting of 1,000 professionals and 50,000 amateur players, are engaged in playing soccer football in this country, and are affiliated with the United States Football Association through the medium of its 19 subsidiary organizations. Although it is not known accurately, it can be safely and conservatively estimated that an equal or greater number of teams are playing soccer in the playgrounds and the private and public schools and colleges.

While, in some quarters, the increasing interest in soccer in this country is largely measured by the gate receipts from the more important games, those who do not measure its progress by the monetary returns see the greatest future for the sport in the ever increasing number of schools, colleges and universities that are being won over to the game. There are few of these institutions of learning that do not have a soccer squad; some of them have several teams and many have classed the game as a major letter sport. This increasing development of soccer in the schools throughout the country is the most gratifying feature of the game's growth. Not only is the increase in interest in the grammar and grade schools quite considerable, but in the high and preparatory schools it is almost as great. This is the one phase of the game's advancement that it is most vital to its future welfare—its development through the one medium necessary to its success—the American school-boy.

The National (Open) Challenge Cup Competition emblematic of the U.S. National Soccer Championship, was established with the formation of the United States Football Association in 1913, while the National Amateur Cup Competition came into existence in 1922-23. It was felt, when the U.S. Football Association was first formed in 1913, that the institution of a truly national cup competition would bring before the public the fact that soccer was something more than a game played and governed in a haphazard manner; that it was, in fact, a national institution. The missionary work accomplished through the medium of the National (Open) Cup Competition can best be realized by the fact that the entries grew so great that it was found necessary to institute a National Amateur Challenge Cup Competition in order to permit the amateur to play in his own sphere, and, at the same time, earn national honors of his own, thereby leaving the National Open Competition largely to the professional clubs.

The association has grown until, at this time, there are 19 associations in membership, together with a number of associate members, including the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, the Intercollegiate Soccer Football Association of America, the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Public Schools Athletic League, and the National Coaches Association of America.

SOCCER AT WEST POINT

By JOSEPH M. PALONE

Varsity Soccer Coach and Intramural Soccer Instructor
U.S.M.A., West Point, N. Y.

Soccer has a definite place in the Sports Program at the United States Military Academy, both in the Intercollegiate ranks and as an integral part of an extensive Intramural Program. In attempting to explain both programs, it is best to deal with each one separately as they occur during different sport seasons and are under two different administrative organizations.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

The intercollegiate side of soccer at West Point in the Fall of the year finds the Army Varsity team playing in the newly organized Eastern Intercollegiate Soccer League and playing a full schedule of approximately ten games against the best teams in the East. The Junior Varsity and Plebe teams each play an eight game schedule. Approximately thirty-five men are carried on each of the three squads so that a very exhaustive program is in full swing. Each of the three squads has its own practice area and a definite period of time is allotted for practice each day. The Plebe or Freshmen team is coached by two cadets selected for their coaching ability. They are directly under the supervision of the Varsity Soccer Coach and work closely with him.

During the Spring, an "off-season" soccer period is held during April and May, and fundamentals of individual and team play are stressed to a maximum. This system was inaugurated by the former highly successful soccer coach, Lt. Col. George F. McAneny, in 1945 and since then has become an integral and valuable part of the Varsity Soccer Program. Four "practice" games are scheduled with the best amateur teams from the New York Area and the games are extremely beneficial to the cadets from the standpoint of competition against teams of above-college standards in soccer skill and ability. Also games are played on Wednesday afternoons against the best of the intramural teams to give added game experience and also enable the Varsity Coach to "scout" intramural teams for possible varsity material.

The Varsity Soccer Program, which I have described, is directly under the jurisdiction of the Director of Athletics, head of the Army Athletic Association. Policies governing the sport, schedule arrangements and all other administrative details are set forth by this organization. The best equipment and facilities are made available for intercollegiate competition. Soccer has been recognized as a valuable part of the broad program of sports teams representing the U.S. Military Academy in intercollegiate competition.

I N T R A M U R A L

The Office of Physical Education at West Point has long recognized the value of soccer as an excellent sport to develop stamina, aggressiveness and coordination and as an all-around conditioner of men who must be in top physical condition. As part of an extensive Intramural Sports Program, which includes about every sport played in America, we find soccer being played in the Spring of each year.

There are at present twenty-four companies in the Corps of Cadets. Beginning about April 1st, each company organizes a Soccer Squad of about eighteen men. This squad is coached by a First Class Cadet, who has taken a course in Soccer Coaching Technique and is supervised to a minor degree by Instructors from the Physical Education Staff. The players may not repeat another year (except for coach and assistant coach) as it is desired to give men an opportunity to participate in a wide range of sports. Thus each Spring an entirely new squad of approximately eighteen men gains playing experience in soccer.

Formerly Intramural Soccer was a Fall Sport and had to compete with Intramural Football, a rugged competitor for popularity. The present plan seems much more reasonable, since a good many men who formerly played on football now learn soccer and enjoy it very much. (We who are soccer coaches, might well be much better off from the standpoint of soccer interest if college varsity competition were in the Spring also. Why not??)

The value of Intramural Soccer can best be shown by the enthusiasm president. He served in these capacities until 1947 when he resigned because of his health, impaired by his duties guiding enterprise through the vicissitudes of a World War and some of the nation's recovery program.

Such a talented man as this offered all this outstanding ability to soccer as well as his ever open purse, but like so many others, refused to become involved in a welter of petty politics and quit the effort. He withdrew entirely from the sport—a victim of the system that has prevented soccer from growing to major proportions in this country. He was professionally-minded and was certain that the amateur had to take his deserved minor place in the councils of the game and allow the professional to lead, as in baseball. Nothing makes leadership so much as risking and spending one's own cash, he often contended.

As a young Welshman he had seen good soccer in the British Isles and as a youth played our brand in Pennsylvania. There was nothing that Edgar Lewis would not do for soccer and he proved it. He was never

The death, on Dec. 5th, 1948, of Horace Edgar Lewis did not mean as much to soccer devotees as it would have to a generation earlier.

Edgar Lewis, as he was popularly known, was one of Charley Schwab's masterful proteges in the steel world. Son of a tin mill worker, he was born in Pontardulais, near Cardiff, Wales, in 1896 and when fourteen years of age came to the United States. Within three years he was employed by the Carnegie Steel Co. and with the hegira of Schwab boys to Bethlehem, he made the shift and wound up a $400,000 a year vice president. In the industry, it is commonly accepted as truth that he quit this job in 1930 on a matter of policy, his stand being on the humane side.

He then, almost immediately, became chairman of the Jeffrey Manufacturing Co. of Columbus, Ohio and in 1936 was elected chairman of the board of directors of Jones and Laughlin and two years later was chosen as reluctant in financing many local and state projects that would have otherwise died from lack of support.

Under the banner of the Bethlehem Steel Co. he recruited, from the British Isles, the greatest team ever put together in this country, possibly excepting the Hakoah team of Jewish booters that played in the American League. He thought the example would induce others to provide major quality football as a model for our great young athletes.

Another move in his pretentious plans soon appeared. The old Federal League baseball park in Harrison, N.J. had recently been burned to the ground and Lewis offered to buy the site and erect a stadium for soccer that would do credit to the sport and further the growth that seemed possible under the aegis of the American Soccer League. He asked nobody to contribute a cent to the promotion and was generous in the terms for paying it off from future revenue. His only objective was to have a soccer center in the then greatest soccer sector in the country. This generous plan hit many snags in legislature halls and other places.

He donated the Lewis Cup for a tournament that the professionals intended to develop into the real championship of the United States. It is now in possession of the American League and is the award to the winner of a playoff system, similar to the Stanley Cup in ice hockey.

Edgar Lewis did not resign from soccer, but he was strongly against the disruption caused by warring elements, and this great industrialist thereupon devoted his talents entirely to business. Soccer spurned them, in effect, preferring control by visionless and tactless amateurs rather than the wisdom of a great figure in the steel industry—an unwilling failure in the cause of the world's greatest international game, soccer.

displayed by the players and the keenness and spirit of play when the company competition starts. Each team plays a total of eleven "league" contests playing twice weekly. Six regulation soccer fields are available each afternoon and activity really leaves nothing to be desired.

Intramural soccer fields are breeding grounds for varsity soccer players. Each year approximately five men have been taken on the Varsity Squad the following Fall and have in most cases made good. They were selected after being closely observed in competition and based upon their ability to "handle" the ball, kick hard and long, show natural "shooting" ability, and make the instinctive moves on offense and defense which are marks of "Soccer-Sense".

Perhaps the most important value to be gained from this extensive Intramural Soccer Program at West Point is the acquaintance with the sport that some 500 budding officers are receiving each year. After graduation, is it not possible that many of them will bring soccer to the young men of the Army? Also these young officers are assigned to duty in various nations of the world and a knowledge of this truly "International Game" may some day be of valuable use. No civilized nation in the World has failed to find soccer numbered high in its Sports Program. Can you say this of any of our so-called favorite sports?

BILL GONSALVES — MR. SOCCER

By DICK NIVEN, Associate Editor of Soccer

Dick Niven

America's soccer immortal, Big Bill Gonsalves, in a career covering more than 25 years has added lustre to a sport, which he preferred more than amateur boxing and semi-professional baseball, and during the entire period his technique and achievements on the field have been on a par with any great European star. His collection of National competition medals and his appearances on All-American teams is unprecedented and unsurpassed in the annals of American soccer.

Born in Fall River, Mass., on August 10, 1908, he launched a booting career, fourteen years later, when he played with the Pioneer Liberals F.C. of Fall River, Lusitania Recreation S.C. of Cambridge, and the Portuguese-American F.C. of the Boston District League.

His ball control, at this time, attracted the attention of the Boston S.C. management which had previously enticed many colorful and internationally known players from the British Isles. To the skepticism of the sideliners, that a 16 year old native born player could hold his place in such distinguished company, Gonsalves, in his debut, provided a devastating answer by scoring a brilliant goal two minutes after the game had started.

Some of his clubmates at this time were, Tommy Muirhead of Glasgow Rangers and Alex McNab of Greenock Morton, both of them seasoned Scottish internationals; Barney Battles, who later returned to Scotland and become, like his famous father, an international; Jock McIntyre and Tom Fleming of Greenock Morton; Charles McGill, who departed these shores to play with Aberdeen and last but not least, Mickey Hamil, Ireland's great star.

In the years following, many additional clubs were destined to reap rich rewards from Gonsalves phenomenal talents and he appeared in the lineups of Fall River, New York Yankees and New Bedford then going West to St. Louis he played for Stix Baer & Fuller, Central Brewery, Shamrocks and South Side and in Chicago for the Manhattan Brewery. Returning to the East again he next played for the Healeys of White Plains, Kearny Scots-Americans, Brooklyn Hispano and Newark.

His collection of gold medals, symbolic of National Open championships, of which he has eight winner's and three defeated finalists, started in 1930 with Fall River and he made an encore to the dais to collect a second one the following year while with the same team. In 1932 he sparkplugged the New Bedford to a National championship and in the next two years added a brace more while playing with Stix, Baer & Fuller of St. Louis. The following year he was a member of the Central Breweries when the $2,500 trophy was returned to the Mound City. In 1933 and 1934 he definitely was the backbone of the lineup when Brooklyn became National kingpin.

In 1936 and 1937 he played with St. Louis Shamrocks when the Westerners bowed to Philadelphia Americans and New York Americans in the final rounds and in 1938 he was in the Chicago Manhattan Brewery lineup when St. Mary's Celtic took the National Trophy to Brooklyn.

In addition to these gold collecting expeditions he appeared in the United States colors in many foreign countries. In 1930 he played in the World Cup Competition in Montevideo against Belgium, Paraguay and Argentine and in the same combination which later played the Brazilian National team in Rio de Janeiro.

In 1934, again in the World Cup, he played in Rome against Mexico and Italy to be followed by an exhibition tour through Germany and the following year he played six games in Mexico while a guest member of the New York Americans. In 1941 he played five games in Haiti along with the New York National League All-Stars. As a professional he was barred from the 1932 and 1936 U.S. Olympic teams.

The zenith in his career was possibly in 1931 when, at Fenway Park in Boston, he caused a tremendous sensation by hammering home three unforgettable goals against the Scottish National Cup holders, the redoubtable Glasgow Celtic. Willie Maley, astute manager of the Scots for 50 years, named Gonsalves as the greatest player he ever saw.

His scoring feats have been exceptional and the records claim for him 54 goals in one season and the racking up of seven markers in one game. While net bulging has always been a valuable asset in the Gonsalves repertoire, artistic ball control, beautifully executed passes to his wingmen and his crafty moves have created heavy havoc in many defenses.

Now in the twilight of his colorful career he serves with Newark S.C. as player coach. His speed and stamina may have lost a turn but he still commands his youthful ball wizardry. The U.S.S.F.A. resubstitution rule has lengthened, by many years, his playing life and his pile driving shot and his deadly accuracy in placing the ball beyond the goalkeeper's reach still makes him a valuable asset in the conversion of penalty kicks and close-in free kicks. Added to this is the fact that he has never been censured by a referee for rough play or ungentlemanly conduct on the field.

In attempting to emulate Gonsalves booting career the aspiring native born youth will find at the end of the trail, the respect of legions of country-wide faithful worshippers, the satisfaction of having lived a clean life and the maintaining of a splendid physical condition. He may even become to be known as Mr. Soccer the Second.

ANDREW M. BROWN

By Dr. G. Randolph Manning, Former President U.S.S.F.A.

Andrew M. Brown died in the service of a sport in which he had spent lavishly of his energy, ability, time and money. Delegated by the 1948 U.S.S.F.A. annual meeting held at Chicago as a goodwill ambassador to the Dominion of Canada annual convention he was stricken with a heart ailment while driving from his home in Ohio to Toronto and a few days later American soccer lost one of its ablest counselors.

Born in Paisley, Scotland, he came here 58 years ago as a youth of 20 years and engaged actively in the sport in Philadelphia. He was an outside left of no mean repute.

Son of a university professor and originally trained for the ministry he worked with the Alexander Smith Company in Yonkers, N.Y. as a carpet designer but later became associated with Babcock and Wilcox of Bayonne, N. J. Gifted by his Creator with a deep understanding of human nature and now soft of tongue, a patient listener, pacifier of ugly emotions and an inherent believer in justice and fair play, this great international industrial concern capitalized on his great talents and he became assistant personnel manager. He later became personnel manager and moved with his firm to Barberton, Ohio, where he was persuaded to remain at his post beyond the normal retirement age.

Very early in his sports activities he became a delegate to the American Association, an organization controlling the professional elements in the East and sponsor of the American Challenge Cup. While president of this organization in 1913 he is credited, while working against great odds, in finally persuading his fellow executive members to throw in their lot with the American Amateur Association to form the present parent body.

Serving in 1925 and 1926 as honorary secretary of the U.S. governing organization he was elected president in 1927 and 1928. For some time he was also acting president of the new York State Association.

From 1913 till 1948 he missed attending one National annual meeting. His presence at these conclaves was an augury that belligerent delegates, left, a few days later, for their home States feeling that all was well and it was well worth travelling many hundreds of miles to meet and associate with such good friends and neighbors.

When trouble brewed at the Helsinki Congress of the International Federation and the U.S.S.F.A. was threatened with expulsion for harboring and playing foreign professional players who had skipped out on their club agreements, Andrew M. Brown was sent as the U.S. delegate to pour oil on the troubled waters. When the Congress adjourned, the U.S.S.F.A. was still a member in good standing. He was also present at the Congress held in Barcelona.

In July 1948, shortly before the start of his fateful journey to Canada, he represented the U.S.S.F.A. at the North American Zone championships and the 11th Congress in Havana.

Andrew M. Brown always gave of his all and the world is better today in that he stayed here for 78 years and left an imperishable impression of wholesomeness with all who came into contact with him.

FIELD OF TOMORROW

By BILL GRAHAM

Of the two proposals submitted by the Scottish Association at the annual meeting of the International Conference, one received benign treatment while the other although gathering adherents, was voted down.

The first, for which permission to play public exhibition games at the commencement of the 1940-50 season was granted, deals with offside and measurably decreases the area in which a defense can set offside traps for opposing forwards.

It is proposed that the present center line, which extends across and equally divides the length of the pitch be eliminated, except that part inside the center circle and that two other lines, each forty yards from the opposite goal lines, extent across the field from touch line to touch line. Outside the area marked off by these lines an opponent cannot be played offside.

At present Law 11 says that a player cannot be offside in his own half of the field. The new markings will allow greater freedom in outfield play as the attack will be advanced 20 yards closer to an opponent's goal without fear of being trapped into offside play.

If ultimately adopted it will bring revolutionary changes in the techniques of both attack and defense. At present, outside wingers and the center forward hover around the center line but with the additional 20 yards of exempted territory it will bring changes in the tactics of the three half-backs in establishing and maintaining their liaison with the forwards and fullbacks.

The second proposal would abolish the present penalty area and substitute another of a different shape and size. The idea advanced is that the penalty area be within a 22-yard arc marked from the goal line and taken from the center of the goal. The penalty kick spot would not be changed.

It is argued for the new idea that infringements which sometimes occur in the outfield corners of the present penalty box are hard to detect by the referee and as the distance is 28 yards from the center of the goal the punishment is too drastic. The new area would shear six yards from the corners of the present penalty area but would extend it four yards directly in front of goal.

The proposed new area would be 760 square yards against the present 792 square yards.

Dr. G. Randolph Manning

REPORT ON THE 26th CONGRESS OF THE F.I.F.A. HELD AT LONDON, ENG- LAND, JULY 27th AND 28th, 1948

By DR. G. RANDOLPH MANNING, Executive Council Member

As anticipated, due to the austerity program enforced in the British Isles and the imminence of the Olympic games, the duration of the Congress was limited to two days, the shortest on record in my experience. Naturally, discussions were held down to a minimum, some important items of a controversial nature either being referred to Committees, side-tracked or left for further consideration in the hands of the Executive Committee of the F.I.F.A.

The usual functions were cut down to two outstanding entertainments. An elaborate reception tended by the Chilean Ambassador to the British Isles at the Embassy, and the other a magnificent luncheon given by The Football Association on the second day, accompanied by the age old British pomp and circumstance. It is just at these functions that the delegates from all over the world meet each other in friendly, unofficial intercourse and try to understand and compose their variegated problems and viewpoints. Moreover, it must be noted here with great satisfaction that, aside from the renewal of good relations with all F.I.F.A. representatives as a whole, particularly friendly connections were established by our delegates with those of our Western Hemisphere throughout the entire duration of the Congress.

The session was opened by a few remarks of welcome by Mr. Drewry representing our host, The Football Association. He then introduced H.R.H. The Duke of Gloucester who, in his address, spoke of international amity and stressed the role our world embracing sport is destined to play throughout the five continents.

The official roll call established the presence of representatives of 50 nations.

Thereupon the following National Associations were admitted to membership:

Accra Amateur Football Association
Football Association of Afghanistan
The Burma Football Federation
Dominion of Canada Football Association
Cyprus Football Association
All-India Football Association
All-Pakistan Football Federation
New Zealand Football Association,

establishing an overall affiliation of 66 nations within the F.I.F.A. Applications of the Korean and Sudan Football Associations for membership, after considerable discussion, were referred back to the Executive Committee for further consideration and definite action. (Both Associations were accepted in affiliation at a subsequent meeting of the F.I.F.A. Executive Committee, which brought the number of affiliated bodies to 68 in all.)

An arrangement to play the Jules Rimet Cup in 1950 in Brazil was accepted, but much discussion occurred relative to the rules of playing procedure. The final regulations governing the competition, preliminary as well as proper, will be issued in a special pamphlet to all affiliated nations. It was also agreed that the 1954 Rimet Cup games should be entrusted to the Swiss Football Association, and 1958 to Sweden. If, however, Switzerland should fail to go through with it, the 1954 games will be undertaken by Sweden.

The Argentine Football Association requested permission to hold an International Competition in 1953 in celebration of the 100th anniversary of that Republic. The plea was granted with a condition that such competition must not be named a world championship.

The discussions were continued on Wednesday morning with adoption of a special report concerning the Football Associations in Palestine. An Israeli Association and an Arab Association will be accepted in lieu of the Palestine Association when definite political states have been organized in that strife-ridden country.

The Swiss proposal to permit affiliated clubs to play friendly matches with German clubs was deferred until such time when a German Association is properly organized by the F.I.F.A.

The perennial issue of incorporating an all embracing definition of amateurism in the statutes of the F.I.F.A. was again side-tracked, and placed on the Agenda for the 1950 Congress after a short and useless discussion. The hope was voiced that in the meanwhile the Executive Committee may be able to find some equitable basis for a formula embracing the many divergent views expressed.

The proposal, put forward by the Soviet Sport Federation, to recognize the Russian language as an official language of the F.I.F.A. was not entertained because of the failure of any Soviet delegate to attend the Congress.

The following resolution by the South American Confederation, as proposed by Brazil, in regard to delay to Permit of Transfer for professional players was adopted:

1. a maximum delay of 60 days shall be allowed for the delivery of a permit if two Associations of the same continent are concerned.
2. a maximum delay of 90 days shall be allowed for the delivery of a permit if two Associations of different continents are concerned.
3. in the event of the permit not arriving within the delays specified in

(1) and (2) above, a provisional permit shall be issued to allow a player to play until the Permit of Transfer is received.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

President, Mr. Rimet (France); Vice President, Mr. Seeldrayers (Belguim).

The representative of The Football Association; Mr. Drewry; The Executive Board: Mr. Bianchi (Chile); Dr. Manning (United States); Mr. Mauro (Italy). Auditors: Mr. Thuman (Switzerland) and Mr. Linde (Sweden).

The next Congress, if no other changes occur, will be in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, 1950.

Mr. DeLauney (France) and Mr. Eie (Norway) were desgnted as F.I.F.A. members to the International Board.

Former Representative Fred Hartley, co-author of the Taft-Hartley Labor Bill, played with the old Ryerson team in New Jersey when first elected as a local commissioner by aggrieved boaters peeved at the local administration for failure to supply a playing pitch. He was playing professional with the old Erie A.A. when first elected to Congress.

NATIONAL CHALLENGE CUP

A solid silver trophy, with suitable engravings, emblematical of a soccer football, with a player mounted on top and surmounted on a pedestal formed by four Corinthian pillars, standing, in all, thirty-three inches high. It was manufactured by Read and Barton of New York City and is often exhibited as an outstanding example of the silversmith's art. The trophy is competed for annually as the National Challenge Cup, is emblematic of United States Open championship and is held by the winning team for one year under $2,000 bond to assure its safe and undamaged return.

The competition is open to all professional and amateur teams in the United States.

In season 1912-13, the trophy having been presented to the American Amateur Foot Ball Association, was offered for amateur competition only and was won by the Yonkers F.C., which defeated the Hollywood Inn F.C. of Yonkers 3-0 at Lennox Oval in New York City.

On formation of the United States Foot Ball Association in 1913, the trophy, with permission of the donor, became the property of the new organization and was offered in competition as the National Challenge Cup.

1948-49 COMPETITION

As was the case in the National Amateur Cup, entries to the National Open Competition fell off for the 1948-49 season. In the 1947-48 season the entries totaled 117 while the number of clubs participating this season was 105. Four St. Louis clubs entered but withdrew before the start of the competition. The East supplied 54 of the participants who played 62 games and scored 268 goals. The West contributed 51 entrants who played 57 games and registered 248 goals.

THE GRAND FINALISTS

MORGAN S.C. OF WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA

By Elado J. DiGiovanni, Secretary

The listing of the Morgan S.C. in the long roster of entries for the United States Open championship competition gave no indication that the team would defeat the more favored combinations and finally before the end of the season down the highly touted competitors from the East and take the treasured trophy back to adorn the sideboard in the clubhouse of this small mining town.

Near greatness was achieved in the team's first year, when in 1941-42 it battled its way to the final round of the National Amateur Cup only to fall 4-3 before Fall River F.C.

Player-manager Nick DiOrio, started collecting National gold medals back in 1939 when the Avella Bears S.C. won the National Junior Challenge Cup and to this has been added the National Open winner's badge and the finalist medal for the National Amateur Cup. Albert Fiorentini boasts of two Open championship medals having collected the first one when playing with the Gallatin S.C. in 1942.

Fleix "Fiddles" Mitchell, who has been booting for 23 years, Albert "Blackie" DiOrio, for 15 years and Capt. Paul "Duts" Danilo for 12 years are no strangers to National Competition having played with Morgan Strasser when the National Amateur Cup was taken West in 1943 and in the same year the final round of the National Challenge Cup was unsuccessfully contested with Brooklyn Hispano.

Playing throughout the competition with these stellar performers were, Donald Chappel, Frank DiOrio, Raymond Fisher, Walter Gossic, Armando Innarelli, Pete Klemash, Henry Mannering, Gustave Teyssier, William Tkach, and Francis Tkach.

Philadelphia Nationals

By Jimmie Mills, Manager

Jimmie Mills

Reaching a zenith, the Fairhill Club which sponsors the Philadelphia Nationals, reaped the harvest of 34 years of organizing and team building when its booting aggregation became Eastern champion in the National Challenge Cup after having won the American League pennant and the Lewis Cup. In addition it forced the Belfast Celtic, champion of Ireland, to a 3-3 tie during the Irishmen's tour of the U.S.

Added to these honors it supplied Benny McLaughlin and Walter Bahr to the 1948 U.S. Olympic team repeating the performance of 1924 when Cy Davis and Henry Farrell were among the favored who played with the National team in Paris.

Prior to taking over the American League franchise of the Passon Phillies in 1943 the team played in the Allied League of Philadelphia and captured the pennant in 1926-27-28. Harry was the manager during the period to be followed by Bill Hawkins who previously had been a playing partner of Jimmy Mills, who later took over the management. Of the squad which first played in the American League, Smith, Oliver, Dick and Bahr are still members.

Outside E. McIlveney, who is a Scot the roster of players, entirely native born are; Robert Compton, Frank Golle, Robert Knoerlein, David Dick, Gill Schuerholz, James Smith, Walter Bahr, Thomas Oliver, Raymond McFaul, Nick Kropfelder, Benny McLaughlin, Joseph White, John Sullivan, James Dunn, Edward McGhee and James Knox.

NATIONAL OPEN CHAMPION—MORGAN S.C. OF WEST PENN. Defeating the Eastern champion, Philadelphia Nationals, 4-3 in the two games total-goals final the Morgan S.C. made history by capturing the $2,500 National Challenge Cup. Included in the group are: back row l to r. Di Orio, F. Tkach, A. DiOrio, R. Gossic, R. Fisher, B. Tkach, A. Fiorentini, Manager J. Tkach, G. Kotchoski. Front row l to r—F. Mitchell, A. Inneralli, D. Chappel, P. Danilo, P. Klemash, N. DiOrio, G. Tyssier, W. Gossic, H. Mannering.

NATIONAL AMATEUR CUP

Entries for the National Challenge Cup had increased so rapidly that in season 1922-23 it was decided to organize the National Amateur Challenge Cup in order to permit the amateur player to earn National honors in his own right.

The trophy, competed for annually, is held by the winning team for one year under $500 bond to assure its safe and undamaged return. In the year of its inception, inclement weather prevented the competition being carried to a conclusion. In the East, Fleisher Yarn and Foxbury F. C. were the divisional finalists and in the West, Jeanette F. C. and the Swedish-American A.A. were the finalists.

THE FINALISTS

EASTERN—ELIZABETH S.C. OF NEW JERSEY

By Rudy Wadle, Secretary

Elizabeth S.C. fittingly marked its 25th anniversary by annexing its first National championship, winning the German-American League Big Ten Division pennant for the third successive year and facing Newark S.C. in the final round for the New Jersey State Cup, early in the new season. In addition the team travelled to the Eastern quarter finals of the National Challenge Cup before being downed 3-2 by the ultimate Eastern champion, Philadelphia Nationals.

In capturing the National Amateur Cup, the New Jerseyites downed Paterson Dovers 2-0; West New York 6-0; New World 5-0; and deposed the three-time champion, Ponta S.C. of Fall River, 2-0 in the Eastern semi-final round and to win the right to represent the East defeated Eintracht S.C. 1-0 and 2-1 in the two game series.

In league competition the team, in 18 starts, lost only one and tied two games. The strength of both the attack and the defense is evidenced by the fact that 74 goals were scored while our 18 opponents only cracked the defense 15 times.

The team which brought these high honors to the club is George Ardente; Francis Sinsheimer, Walter Bagdzinski; Henry Hanna, Willie Geiger, Harold Strong; Henry Hummel, Bob McNally, Joe Lacko, Teddy Cavanaugh and Steve Hritz, aided occasionally by Fritz Boehm and Ray Nickols, two utility forwards.

Paul Kine, is manager of the team and Helmuth Peters, president of the club.

WESTERN—ZENTHOEFERS OF ST. LOUIS

By George E. McCann, Manager

This team which, early in the season, moved on to the soccer horizon in search of National honors played last year as the Schumachers, a junior combination, and after being defeated in the final round of the National Junior Cup by the Lighthouse Boys of Philadelphia turned senior and ploughed its way to the National final in search of the simon pure title.

In first becoming Missouri State champion, the team defeated Gogetters S.C. 1-0, S.A.Y. Club 4-2, and Ace Cab S.C. 3-2. In advancing to the Western quarter finals the combination next defeated the Mulhauser F.C. of Texas, 2-1 and in the semi final round disposed of GIAC Maroons of Chicago 9-0, and before entering the National final defeated Toledo Turners of Ohio 4-1.

The ages of these American youths, who lack little before becoming bigtime performers, range from 18 to 20 years. In the former bracket are two halfbacks, Tom Stack and Bill McLaughlin while the 19's are, Goalie Al Pidgeon, holder of two National Junior title medals, Fullbacks Merlin Whetsel and Harry Teepe, Halfback Jack Lyons and Forwards Rich Linck, Jack Meier and Gearld Brennan. In the 20's are Forwards Bob Rooney and Warren Smith. Sub Goalie Donald Donahue is 19 years as is Sub Halfback Bill Davis and general utility player Donald Scott. Sub Center Half, Lester Rohne and Sub Forward John Milina are both 20 years of age.

N.Y. STATE SOCCER FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

At the annual meeting held at the Hotel Statler, New York City, Sept. 10th, the entire slate as recommended by the nominating committee was accepted without dissent. Jack Flamhaft, who has served in the Association in many capacities, asked to be excused as a candidate for election, for one year. The six District Commissioners elected are Max Harnick, Arthur Pagelson, Harry Saunders, James Hewitt, Herman Birgler and Max Bergman. The latter four are newcomers.

The association has an income of $4,300, primarily from its percentage from the gates of the recent foreign tours. The treasurer reported a cash balance of $3,518.

Registrar Hansen reported that 665 junior players had been registered during the season along with 363 juveniles and boys. This means that more than 1,000 native born youths will be graduating and competing for places on the senior teams within the next few years.

The following executives were elected.

AMERICAN SOCCER LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By ERWIN SINGLE, Editor American League News

Jas. McGuire

First to sponsor a visit by a foreign soccer team after the war, the American Soccer League in 1948/49 really bit off a big chunk. Two of the Spring visitors—Belfast Celtics and Scottish Nationals — were American League projects in conjunction with the USSFA. And all four other foreign teams to play here—Israeli, Newcastle, Kamraterna, and Milano—played at least one or more games under ASL sponsorship. Little wonder that the ASL fan felt like a well-fed gent with five helpings of Thanksgiving turkey in his system by the time mid-July rolled around. Little wonder, too, that the ASL directorate, particularly the Messrs. Schwarcz and McGuire, swore they wouldn't look at another leather pellet until at least Labor Day.

Earlier in the season the league underwent several team adjustments. Trenton Americans had come on to replace the Baltimore Soccer Club and, a few weeks after the season opened, the Graham family sold the Brooklyn Wanderers franchise to Hakoah. At practically the same time, the league decided to relieve Paul Trautner and associates of the Baltimore Americans franchise and keep it in escrow for the time being. Reluctantly, the loop delegates and their fans bade farewell to Trautner and company, whom they had come to appreciate as real sportsmen both on and off the playing field. The two defunct teams, Wanderers and Baltimore A's, played a final league game against each other in Brooklyn which ended in a scoreless tie.

Five of the Baltimore players eventually went to Philadelphia Nationals and helped to shape Jimmy Mills' pennant machine. In a move to field an all-Jewish team at Hawthorne Field, Hakoah disposed of all the former Wanderer stars to N. Y. Americans, Hispano, Brookhattan and the two Kearny clubs.

Kearny Scots led the pennant chase during the first few weeks but suffered the misfortune of having a win against the Americans reversed and another against Baltimore wiped out when the Orioles dropped out. Hispano, back under Duncan Othen's managerial guidance, then came on to take the early lead. But by Mid-October the Philadelphia Nationals started a 13-game winning streak which carried them from a cellar position clear into first place until they were finally halted by Trenton in a Saturday afternoon game.

Meanwhile, Erno Schwarcz's N.Y. Americans, fortified with the best defense in the loop, had come from a mid-position to challenge the two leaders. With the veteran Stanley Chesney lured out of retirement and back between the uprights, the Schwarczmen soon were in the thick of it. When the league season finally came to a close, all three challengers found themselves in a three-way tie. The rest is history. After the A's had knocked off Hispano in the first playoff, they staged as thrilling a battle as the fans had ever seen in the preliminary to the first international game on May 8. Deadlocked at 3-3, the teams had to withdraw to permit the Belfast game to go on, but after 90 minutes of international soccer, the two league contenders came back and fought furiously until the Nats won the flag on the margin of a corner.

The Nationals previously had copped the Lewis Cup with a narrow squeeze over Kearny Celtics and all but made the Triple Crown in the Grand Open Final which was lost to Morgan by a one goal margin.

The best showing made by the league was the 2-2 against Belfast scored by Brookhattan-Hispano-Hakoah Select, the 3-3 earned by the Nationals against Belfast and the narrow margin of Milano's victory in the Italians' farewell game at Philadelphia.

John O'Connell, though moved from the Wanderers to the Americans and from fullback to center forward, was again voted the most valuable player of the league, with Walter Bahr of the Nationals just two points in back. Two other members of the Nats, Bernie McLaughlin and Tom Oliver, followed in that order.

Jim McGuire was again re-elected to head the league for another year with Emil Schillinger as first vice president and Erno Schwarcz continuing as business manager and Frank Jenkinson as secretary-treasurer. Changes among the vice presidents saw Julio Alonzo, Jimmy Mills and Tom Jerome as newcomers in that order while Bill Coyle dropped out after many years of service.

GERMAN-AMERICAN LEAGUE 1948-49 ROUNDUP

By MILT MILLER

Long Island Press — Long Island Star

Milt Miller

As the Elizabeth Sport Club and Swiss F.C. can well attest, there were no romps into the 1948-49 championships of the German-American Soccer League's Big Ten and Premier Divisions. It was a battle all the way in both groups, much to the glee of fans and club followers.

Along with the tenseness, the close competition had many redeeming features in that practically all the clubs with enclosed fields reported marked attendance increases along with the appearance of new faces drawn to the games by the torrid race. The better calibre of play by G-A teams left their marks in the State and National cup competitions.

The Elizabeth S.C. started on a booting triple by capturing the Big Ten title for the third straight time and the gaining the National Amateur Cup. At publication date they still had to meet Newark, defending champion, in the final of the New Jersey State Cup competition.

Tabbed the cinderella team of the National Challenge Cup play, the New York S.C. attained the Eastern final of the U.S. Open event before their famed late flurries finally ran out of power. But that didn't stop New York from retaining the New York State Cup for the third successive season.

Another outstanding eleven was the German-Hungarians Reserves. They went through a spectacular season to garner the G-A Reserve Division crown and then snare the Dr. Manning Cup tourney.

When the league campaign started last September, there was every indication that Eintracht and Newark would be principal rivals for Big Ten laurels being defended by Elizabeth. In the Premier Division, Prospect Unity loomed as the dark horse and Kurt Lamm's booters lived up to that reputation to the last when a well-drilled Swiss eleven nosed them out in the title playoff.

As Elizabeth was slow in starting their league play, Eintracht and Newark played tag for the Big Ten lead. By the turn of the year, New York leaped into the picture and shared the top rung although Elizabeth was the only unbeaten team. Though Eintracht and Newark were staging a valiant battle the result seemed inevitable with the Betsytowners being crowned kings of the division for the third time on June 5.

The Premier race was a hodgepodge from the start with Prospect Unity, Swiss, College Point, Passaic and Schwaben as the leading contenders. Passaic maintained a temporary lead as College Point and Schwaben faltered but the Jerseyites also dropped behind by January when Prospect went into the commanding position.

From then on Prospect and Swiss fought nip and tuck with Prospect on top until upset by Swiss late in the campaign. It enabled Swiss to gain a tie for the lead. After a 2-2 deadlock in the first playoff, Swiss captured the title and promotion to the Big Ten through a 2-0 win over Prospect late in May.

Hampered by a poor start, the Greek-Americans surged into the picture late in the drive but their early handicap was too much to overcome.

Pfaelzer also gained a share of the spotlight by winning the indoor soccer tournament staged by the N.Y. State Soccer Football at the 14th Regiment Armory in Brooklyn. Andy Hritz of Eintracht paced the G-A select team to a 3-1 win over the Eastern District League on Thanksgiving Day.

The league paid tribute to one of its most diligent workers by staging a testimonial dinner for Henry Haarer, who has been treasurer of the circuit for 17 years. Vincent Hemberger was singled out for special honors at the loop's 26th annual dance with honorary service pins going to Henry Ehresman, Paul Kappler, Hans Blaeser, Charlie Vetter, Otto Cilensek, Al Boos, and Ru'y Wadle.

Despite an early shower and late downpour, more than 3,500 turned out for the annual sport and field day at Randall's Island in which the New York team upset a select squad of New Jersey, 2 to 1, while the Premier Division edged out an all-star combination of the Central N. Y. State Soccer League, 2 to 1.

progress of the league were the continued improvements to Eintracht and Metropolitan Ovals, which were purchased by Eintracht and the German-Hungarians, respectively. Minerva also did an excellent job on Queens Soccer Field which it obtained on a long lease.

Rudy Sautter

With Elizabeth S.C. as the host club the annual meeting was held at Farchers Grove, Union, N.J. August 13th and 14th and Harry Kraus was reelected president by acclamation, with Bob Tonn, Carl Bauer and Ernest Nussbaum as vice presidents; Hans Chalfon, general secretary; Joe Beck, schedule and games chairman; Henry Haarer, treasurer; Rudy Sautter, registrar; Sigmund Ackerman, recording secretary; Willie Herkert, historian; Hans Bayen, junior chairman; Conrad Schuricht, chairman of the Arbitration Board; John Stox, Vincent Hemberger, Hans Branster and Fred Springer, executive members committee. Rudy Obermeir and August Steur, delegates to the State Assn.

Eastern District Soccer League 1948-49 Highlights

By Werner Lahm, MACCABI A.C. and SOCCER

Stronger than ever and standard bearer for 33 teams participating in four divisions last season, the the EDSL ranks among the foremost and best organized in U.S. soccer today.

Season 1948/49 saw Ludolf Heidecker rounding out his first full year as league prexy and he was ably assisted by such stalwarts as: Henry Steglich, Edwin Loewenstein, Michael Cares, Arthur Pagelson and Carl Freitag. During the past past semester, the league welcomed six new clubs, Milan Hoboken, Juventus Yonkers, Versatile Sportsmen, Ukrainian S.C. Furriers J. C., and Hatikvah. All performed nobly and have become assets to the "Weisenstein" league.

New World Club, now in the midst of its 10th anniversary celebration, highlighted the season by coping its third successive pennant with its Premier Division string. The champions rose to even greater heights in the amateur cup competition, reaching the Eastern semi-finals after defeating New York Hungarians, Maccabi A.C. and the Albany S.C., only to bow to the ultimate winner, Elizabeth S.C., pride of the G.A. League.

Runner-up, Maccabi A.C. did itself proud during the season, with eight teams representing the blue-and-white brigade, a record which stands unchallenged in U.S. soccer today. Its first string gave New World a run for the coveted league trophy and, the "Loewensteins" are out to improve their standings this Fall. The Zionist Club, organized ten years ago, is looking forward to the Maccabiade of 1950, a sports festival in Tel-Aviv, Israel, at which it hopes to participate.

The Columbia F.A. won the blue ribbon in the loops' "A" Division, after a torrid struggle with the Warsaw F.C., that lasted right down to the wire. As a reward, the team advances to the premier division for the coming semester.

The hard-driving French Reserves are the new rulers of the Reserve Division, while in the "B" group, the New World "B" squad with an undefeated and untied record easily romped over the rest of the field to gain championship recognition.

The 20th anniversary, red letter year in the history of the league, was highlighted last Thanksgiving Day at Kingsbridge Oval with a contest against the crack eleven of the G. A., won by the latter 3-1 after a titanic struggle. The score was almost incidental, so much great play had been crammed into 90 minutes of pulse-rushing action. The game, witnessed by a sell-out crowd, was a nip and tuck affair throughout and a tie score would have been more deserving towards the EDSL cause. After the match, officials and players of both teams assembled for an anniversary dinner at the spacious Croke Park restaurant, an event to be long remembered in league annals.

In a close race, New World's center forward, Freddy Meyer, took sharpshooting honors for the second year in succession, by hitting the twines 14 times throughout the course of the campaign. His feat is the more remarkable, because the slippery forward was out of the lineup for a good part of the season with leg ailments. Julius Stein, power-driving forward of the Maccabi A.C. trailed close behind with 13 tallies. Veteran inside forward Julius Kleinman, New World, had 12 goals to show for his seasons work. John McDonald Caribbeans; Kurt Brungesser, Maccabi A.C. and Eric Critchlow, Caribbeans round out the list of the leagues' most feared goalgetters.

It is expected that before the commencement of the 1949/50 season several new clubs will apply for league membership. A drive to secure its own fields and to aid the junior movement in every way possible, rank high on the business agenda for the newly elected board.

At the annual meeting held at the Maccabi Clubhouse August 9th, Ludolf Heidecker was unanimously re-elected President of the league. His new staff includes: Henry Steglich, first vice president; Felix Stevens, second vice president; Noel Harris, treasurer; Max Bergman, secretary; Louis Stein, recording secretary; Edwin Loewenstein, referee and schedule chairman; Carl Freitag, junior chairman; Eric Korf, publicity manager, Louis Stein and Eric Stoerger, delegates to the NYSSFA; Willy Baer, Eric Baruch, Lothar Katz and Herbert Helpert, trustees.

NATIONAL LEAGUE 1948-49 ROUNDUP

By MILT MILLER

The second straight triumph of the Segura F.C. in the 1948-49 National Soccer League season was no accident. The Spanish side posted an imposing record, losing one and tying three of their league affairs. They also set the team scoring mark with 60 goals to their credit. Significantly enough, their scoring ace, Frank Manteiga, topped the individual goal-getting with 28 markers with Harry Tolson of Bigelow-Sanford in second place with 18.

By far the most surprising victory was that registered by the Paterson Dovers. The Jerseyites marked their entrance into the loop by upsetting favored foes after a fair league season to garner the National League Cup with a final victory over Bridgeport.

Actually only four teams were in the running for the league laurels defended by Segura. They included the New York Hungarians, Gjoa, Bigelow-Sanford and Swedish. When the final tally was taken the Hungarians, Gjoa and Bigelow were in a triple deadlock for the runner-up spot.

At the start, the Hungarians forged to the front only to lose the lead to Gjoa who held it for some time. Slowly but surely Segura and Swedish moved up but as the latter faltered the champs kept advancing. By February it was apparent Segura's star would be the brightest again with the titlists clinching the crown a few weeks later.

The battle for second place continued with the Hungarians and Bigelow overtaking Gjoa. Celta finished the season on the suspended list for failing to complete its schedule.

At the annual meeting held July 12 at the Hotel Statler Carl Hansen was elected as president with Ivan Bloom and Jerry Kuthan, vice-presidents; Jimmy Graham, secretary; Arthur Helfgott, treasurer; Ted Hartman, recording secretary. Willie Andersen and Secretary Graham are the delegates to the State Association.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT LEAGUE

By Joe Tolan, President

Joe Tolan

Play throughout the entire 1948-49 season was high spirited and keen and the Premier Division championship has still to be decided. Staten Island Favorites and Malta United are tied for first place with an equal number of points and there is a possibility of a three-way tie should Sada F.C. be successful in winning a re-scheduled game against Long Island Rangers. The rescheduling of the disputed game has been ordered by the N.Y.S.S.F.A. following an appeal by Sada against a circuit decision. The playoffs will take place in October when the new season opens.

Segura B string captured the First Division pennant by heading off a challenge from New York Hungarian S. C.

Galicia B which lost ground in the race for the pennant by a N.Y.S.S.F.A. decision awarding the points in a disputed game to Segura F.C. evened matters by capturing the Metropolitan Challenge Cup, was sidetracking Sada 2-0 in the final round.

This game was played May 30 at Randalls Island as the preliminary to the Scottish National team and Belfast Celtic tussle. This magnificent piece of silverware was presented to the winner by Robert Williamson, chairman of the Scottish National Selection Committee.

The same keenness in competition as has been witnessed in past seasons is expected in the new session which will mark the coming of this popular league. In addition to the Premier and First Divisions it is hoped that a strong junior division will also be operated.

Former executives, Paddy McCafferty and Nils Hendrickson, were not candidates for reelection but it is known that their capabilities will be at the disposal of the league during an eventful season.

At the annual meeting held in New York City in June the following were elected to guide the destinies of the league for the new season, Joseph Tolan, president; John Rojas and Tom Mainwaring, vice presidents; Ernest Bruce, treasurer; L. Francis, recording secretary; Robert McInnes, secretary, business manager and delegate to the N.Y.S.S.F.A. with Bruce as alternate delegate.

NEW YORK JUNIOR COMPETITION

By Charles Fink, Secretary

C. Fink

With more than 830 registered players in six divisions, three junior, two juvenile and one boy's, the Competition completed another successful milestone in the promotion of junior soccer in the New York metropolitan area. More than 80 of these players have passed the grade and will play in the senior teams in the new season.

The fifth anniversary dance was the occasion to honor Harry Kraus, Willie Zimmerman and Lodolf Lehmann for their efforts in successful promotion.

German-Hungarian S.C. winner of the Brooklyn Junior division, defeated Eintracht S.C. and New York, winners of the other divisions to capture the city title.

In the juvenile playoffs Eintracht A won over Kollsman in a home-and-home total goals by 1-1 and 3-2.

German-American A.C. won the New York State Junior Challenge Cup by defeating Gjoa S.C. of the Empire State League 1-0.

Kollsman S.C. reached the Eastern final of the National Junior Challenge Cup by defeating Gjoa S.C. 2-1 for the New York State title and then eliminated Pine Ramblers of Revere, Massachusetts, 3-1 only to fall before the ultimate winner of the competition Philadelphia Light House Boys' Club by 3-0 in Philadelphia.

In the Boys division New York won both the league pennant and the State Cup.

At the annual meeting held July 9 Joseph Trunk, who was credited with much of last season success, was reelected president. The vice presidents, to be elected later, will be the junior chairmen of the German-American and Eastern District Leagues. Willie Zimmerman is treasurer;

Erich Werner, recording secretary and press relations; Herman Meyn, registrar; Joe Themann, delegate to the State Association; Ernest Nussbaum, chairman of the Arbitration Board and Chris Augustin and Robert Blum, trustees.

EMPIRE STATE JUNIOR LEAGUE

By William Graham, Secretary

Getting off to a late start because many of the boys were engaged in the Public Schools Athletic League, the race for the pennant proved much more exciting than the previous year when Gjoa S.C. copped the flag with a five point lead over the runner-up, Segura F.C. Repeating its triumph, the winner was raced right down to the wire by the Swedish F.C. and it required a playoff game to decide the championship.

On the way to greater honors Gjoa S.C. again contested the final round of the New York State Junior Challenge Cup with German-American A.C. of the New York Junior Competition and lost a hotly contested game, 1-0.

For National honors, the same team played the Kollsman S.C. for the State championship, and after superior play and holding a 1-0 lead for the greater part of the game lost a heart-breaker by 2-1.

The league welcomed a newcomer, St. Athanasius R.C. Church, under the management of Joe Pereira, former American League goalkeeper and a graduate of the loop. Before the end of the season the combination was in full stride and offered keen competition to the other members.

Again the schedule will be held until the P.S.A.L. games are completed and although new application for membership have been received organization will not be completed until the end of September.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ATHLETIC LEAGUE

By Nicholas J. Spata, Forest Hills High School

Chairman P.S.A.L. Soccer Committee

P.S.A.L. soccer in the New York area enjoyed tremendous success last season with more than 700 high school players representing 29 participating schools. The growth of interest in this great sports activity was evidenced by the large crowds watching these games and being enthralled by the excellent grade of play, especially in the final city championship game between Grover Cleveland H.S. of Queens and the H.S. of Commerce of Manhattan.

In the Brooklyn Division play was so keen that it necessitated a three-way play-off between Lafayette, Fort Hamilton and Brooklyn Technical, before Lafayette was declared the borough champion.

The excellent, gentlemanly, scintillating teamwork of the Grover Cleveland team, under the tutelage of Coach Joseph Singer resulted in the winning of the William H. Maxwell Trophy, emblematic of the New York City championship. This is their second successive undefeated season.

High School of Commerce, reflecting the high calibre of training of Coach Allen Towbin, finished as runner-up for the city diadem. Lafayette, perennial contender for top honors, coached by Si Yudell, finished in the third slot. Morris H.S., champion of the Bronx, under the direction of Coach William Dreeben, finished fourth for the city honors.

After this most successful season was completed, with the greatest number of teams and players ever to participate in a New York City P.S.A.L. Soccer Tournament, many of the players, ripened by their school experience, joined the teams of the New York State Junior Competition and the Empire State Junior League, raising the general standard of play and creating greater interest in American soccer.

The outlook for next season is very bright with the assured entry of many more teams.

Max Pincus, P.S.A.L. executive chairman; Rowland Patterson, P.S.A.L. executive secretary; and the P.S.A.L. Soccer Committee comprising, Nicholas J. Spata, Forest Hills H.S., chairman; Paul Gibney, George Washington H.S.; William Rosenthal and David Halpern, Christopher Columbus H.S. and Irving Rubin, New York School of Printing, were responsible for the staging of this great tournament.

NEW YORK STATE REFEREES' ASSOCIATION

By Eric Korf, Sports Editor, Aufbau

With a roster of 73 active referees the association completed its most successful season and it is admitted that officiating, in general, has reached a new high standard.

The monthly clinics which have been conducted by Sam Galin, Ed Donaghy, Andy Henle, Sam Scholfield, Charlie Ferro and Eric Korf, have borne fruit and it is hoped that there will soon be enough graduates to supply not only referees but fully qualified linesmen for all important matches.

These clinics, which have a clientele from as far away as Philadelphia, are not only for the hatchlings of embryo referees, but are open for players and fans who desire a through knowledge of the sport.

In the instructions, stress is always laid on the offside laws and the so-called Triangle System of officiating. The new system is being found to be very efficient as it brings the referee and linesmen into a closer working unit for better control of the plays.

At the annual meeting, Andrew Henle was reelected as president with Sam Scholfield and I. Fischer as vice presidents, Eric Korf is treasurer and William Lyle, recording secretary; Harry Connors, secretary and Sam Galin, delegate to the State Association.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE OF CHICAGO

By George E. Fishwick, Editor, National Soccer News

G. E. Fishwick

Despite some tough sledding, in its infancy, the National Soccer League of Chicago, has, during its twenty-nine years of existence, grown to such an extent that claims are made that it is now the largest league in the United States.

This league has forty-two senior, twelve junior and five juvenile teams within its jurisdiction. The Seniors are bracketed into five divisions, Major, Major Reserve, First Division, North; First Division, South and First Division Reserve. At the end of each season the pennant winning combinations in both the North and South First Divisions are promoted to the Major Division while the two teams at the bottom of the Major Division standings are relegated to the First Divisions.

The territory covered by the operations of the senior divisions extends over a radius of 150 miles and is carried into four States, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana and Illinois. North of Chicago, teams from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, compete in the regular league season and to the West, Davenport, Iowa, has an entry while to the South there are units from Rockford, Coal City and Joliet and in the East there is a Fort Wayne, Indiana team.

The present presiding officers are William Hemmings, president; Nels Dahlquist, vice president and George Fishwick, secretary-treasurer. Dahlquist, has received nation-wide recognition recently because of his adept handling of the tours of two Swedish teams, the Durgarden F.C. in 1948 and the Kamraterna F.C. in 1949.

Frank Foldi, who served as the first president of the league in 1920 is still on the active list and serves as a capable referee in the Illinois district.

The League All-Stars have recently served some stiff opposition to touring foreign aggregations and were successful in bringing back to the United States the Triner International Trophy by defeating the Carsteel F.C. of Montreal, Canadian National champion, 3-1 in Chicago after tying 3-3 in Montreal.

The National League is unique in that it opens the season in April and concludes in November. This method has eliminated playing during the bad outdoors months of December, January, February and March.

PEEL CUP, OLDEST U.S. SOCCER TROPHY

The Peter J. Peel Challenge Cup, now in its 41st year of consecutive competition is the oldest booting trophy in the United States. It was inaugurated as an annual series in 1908-09 and has since grown to enjoy an entry list which has often passed the century mark.

The original aim of the competition was to provide a benefit fund for players requiring medical aid, however, of recent years, the winner has been recognised as Illinois State champion as entries are limited to teams within the home State of the donor, Dr. Peel, who is a past president of the U.S.S.F.A. and the only surviving member of the original Cup commission.

Fred Netto, now first vice president of the U.S.S.F.A. is serving as secretary for the competition succeeding W. R. Cummings who served in this capacity for twenty years before retiring ten years ago. Cummings also served as president of the Cup Commission and was soccer editor of the Chicago Daily News.

In 1946 Sparta topped Pullman's record of eight wins and went ahead to set a new record of 11 victories. Remaining in the 1949 competition are Vikings, Wisla, PAAC and Sparta.

DALLAS (TEXAS) ASSOCIATION

By Arthur Ramsden, U.S.S.F.A. Commissioner

Dallas has completed its most progressive season. The Mulhauser F.C. of this city missed appearing in the final of the National Amateur Cup when defeated 2-1 by the finalist, Zenthoefer F.C. of St. Louis. Both counter against the locals came from penalty kicks. Compensation came however when the State Trophy, donated by Arthur A. Everts, and the City Cup donated by the Dallas Times Herald, were captured. The newspaper has donated this fine piece of silverware for the past 16 years.

In the Park Dept. competition City Park copped the senior honors while Pike Park was out in front in the junior division.

For the first time an intercollegiate game was played in the Cotton Bowl during the State Fair.

The new field provided by the Park Dept. was officially opened and is undoubtedly one of the finest pitches in the country. If sufficient interest can be built up it will be fenced and readied for night games.

It was the 89½ minute of a game in which corners were to count in the decision and the score was tied. The Blue center forward, fastening on to a loose ball, short hard and it was evident that the defending goalkeeper was beaten when a fullback knocked the ball over the crossbar with his fist.

The referee, knowing that penalty kicks can be missed and acting under Law 5 which says, "Refrain from penalizing in cases where he is satisfied that by so doing he would be giving an advantage to the offending team", awarded a corner kick.

LOS ANGELES

By Nicholas Steelink, Editor, Cosmopolitan Soccer News

From a playing standpoint season 1948-49 may be listed as one of the best yet experienced. Relative strength of the eight-team league was such that the bottom team was capable of toppling a contender for top honors.

The outstanding event was the visit of the National Open champions, Simpkins Ford of St. Louis. Local teams, All-Stars, Pan American and San Pedro, gave a good account of themselves and Los Angeles would welcome an annual series between Eastern and Pacific Coast combinations.

Hard, fast soccer was served up in the Pan American Consulates Cup and the silverware rests on the Pan American S.C. sideboard. Magyars, although not a contender for pennant honors, due to early defeats, won the City Cup and Victoria A.C. lost two hard fought games, 2-1 and 3-1, to the San Francisco A.C. for possession of the 36 year-old State Cup. Magyars defeated San Francisco Mercuries 2-1 in an inter-city contest and on New Year's Day the all-star teams of both cities played to a tie.

MARYLAND AND DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA 1948-49 ACTIVITIES

By Millard Lang

The season of 1948-49 will go down in history as the most eventful since Maryland was known all over the country twenty years ago as the leader in soccer.

Gloom hit the fans early in the season when the Baltimore Americans, following the Baltimore S. C., withdrew from the American League. The Bugle Field fans were disconsolate.

After a lapse of eight years the Baltimore Major League had reorganized and set a course to present the best in soccer. Goal nets, corner flags, uniformed linesmen and properly uniformed teams were a necessity and as the season progressed the spirited play captured the fans and they turned out in great numbers.

In the Fall, an informal all-star game was played between the City and County of Baltimore High Schools with the former winning 6-2. Larry Surrock, highlighted the day by scoring four goals to mark his fourth-year selection to the all-stars.

The All-Maryland College stars defeated the BML All-Stars 1-0 on a marker registered by All-American Jim Belt.

The BML conducted its first field day on April 3rd with a three-game program. Parkville defeated Serra to win the loop title and Davis won from Locust Point to capture the State amateur title and the Stewart Cup and BML stars sidetracked the Washington and Suburban League.

Davis defeated Locust Point in the final round of the Rowland Cup to win the State Open title.

In the two leagues operated by the Dept. of Recreation, Pompei captured the Unlimited League title and Canton Pool, last year's junior champs, won the senior league pennant.

In the National Open Cup, Santa Maria lost to Trenton Americans and Serra lost to Voila of Philadelphia in the National Amateur Cup.

The junior season was not successful. Most of the players were signed by senior league clubs which made them ineligible for junior play. To offset this disappointment, a Juvenile League was formed with boys under 13 and while only three teams participated, indications are that there will be a much larger turn out in the new season.

In Washington, under the leadership of President Eric Langford, the Washington and Suburban League increased its membership to 10 teams with Sugar Radio and Maryland S.C. each taking a round for the title. Sugar Radio won the two games and repeated its triumph of last year under the management of Russ Violet.

On the Shore, Greensboro and Ridgely, staged a thrilling series for the title which was won by the latter. In the inter-county two-game playoff Sugar Radio defeated Ridgely to win the Association Cup.

Williamsport nosed out Hancock for the championship of the Washington County loop while Chesapeake City Elkton for the Pen Mar League pennant. Due to the lateness of the season there was no inter-county playoff between these two teams.

In the colleges, Nick Kropfelder finished at Loyola by leading them to the Mason-Dixon Conference title. Hopkins under George Wackenhut almost upset the champions when they led the Greyhounds by 2-0 at an early part of the deciding game.

Navy, had a very successful season and got the number two spot nationally. Only an upset victory by Penn, which was the only defeat of the season, robbed the sailors of top honors.

Belt of the University of Maryland, McLernan, Peard and Schaulfelberger of Navy were all named to the All-American team. John Linz and Dan Terzi of University of Maryland and Bill Kinling of Hopkins received honorable mentions.

In the high schools, St. Joe and Patterson battled for city honors in the Maryland Scholastic Association with the former finally capturing the title. Dundalk and Franklin had to wait till the last game of the season to decide the Baltimore County League championship with the former finishing on top.

In the statewide championship tournaments, Dundalk won the Class A title defeating Hyattsville and Beall of Frostburg won Class B by topping Franklin. Centerville, for the third year in succession, won the Class C honors by trimming Aberdeen and Delmar won Class D by defeating Williamsport. The State champion in the junior class was Towson Gaels. This team was composed of boys from St. Joe and Poly in the high school league and won the title by defeating Bayview in the semi final and Outlaw S.C. in the final. They were defeated by Trenton Globe S.C. in the National Junior Challenge Cup. Johnny Plevyak coached the team.

PHILADELPHIA

By Jimmy Walder

Philadelphia basked in the National Soccer spotlight when the Lighthouse Boys' Club retained the National Junior Challenge crown for the second straight year and Philadelphia Nationals won the Eastern Open championship and missed National honors when defeated 4-3 by the Morgan S.C. of Western Pennsylvania.

In addition, the Nationals copped the American League pennant and the Lewis Cup, both symbolic of Eastern professional championship and put two of its players, Bernie McLaughlin and Walter Bahr, on the U.S. Olympic team and the U.S. National team which is now playing in Mexico City in the North American Zone championships.

Locally, The Kensington Quoit Club defeated Lighthouse 2-1 in the playoff for the Philadelphia League diadem and Eiseberger won the Northern section of the Second Division while Richington was victorious in the Southern Section. There was no playoff.

Cardington defeated Eiseberger in the final round of the William Palmer Cup and Lighthouse Boys' in addition to winning the Junior League pennant also won the Waldron Farrell Cup.

Haverford College finished second in the Northeast League of the Middle Atlantic States Conference and in the High School League, Northeast finished on top. Haverford School was out in front in the Inter-Academic League and the perennial winner, Lower Merion, took suburban League honors.

By defeating the New York Scholastic All-Stars 3-0 in Brooklyn the locals tied the four-game inter-city series which commenced in 1945.

SAN FRANCISCO LEAGUE

By John Ardizzone, Secretary

San Francisco is again on the march and can be rated a first class soccer town. The All-Star team defeated the touring National Open champion, Simpkins F.C. of St. Louis, by 5-4 during the season and the previous highspot was in 1947 when the city combination stopped the Hapoel F.C. of Palestine by 4-2, after New York, Chicago and St. Louis had failed.

Many new teams are being fielded and the universities around the Bay Area have formed the Northern California Intercollegiate Conference. During the past season it functioned under Gus Donohoe, Olympic Club player and University of San Francisco coach. Eight teams comprise the league and two more,, Santa Clara University and St. Mary's College will be added to the competition.

The brand of soccer was not sensational as played by the city leagues but it is developing. Many youngsters were given the opportunity to play in the first division and performed nobly. The greatest find of the year is Goalie Angelo Carmassi of the Olympic Club. He was named against the Simpkins.

Old-timers, Al Finlayson of the Rovers and Mario Pieretti of the Verdi, kept pace with the youngsters and finished one-two as the marksmen of the year.

The American-Teutonia F.C. scored an upset victory in the playoffs by defeating Verdi with two goals in rapid succession in the closing minutes to clinch the championship.

Vikings, Mecico A.C. and Unione Espanola were disappointing. The latter, defeated in all its engagements, will be relegated to the second division next season. Mercury A.C. although having the services of three promising players, George Volkoff, Bob Steinberg and Pual Leitaio, failed to show the championship form of the previous season. They lost a 2-1 decision to a second division team, Pan-American, in the final round of the City Cup.

The Rovers depended on the services of veterans and managed to keep among the leaders. New blood will be introduced next season. The Olympic Club, one of the oldest in the city, made a creditable showing, finishing in second place in both halves of the schedule.

San Francisco A.C., California State champion and pennant winner in the eight-team second division, will replace Unione Espanola in the major bracket next season.

Juventud Olimpica, finished as the winner of the ten-club Alliance Division.

Lack of playing fields has hampered the growth of the sport. The parks Dept. has promised one for the commencement of the season.

Following the endorsement by U.S.S.F.A. President Walter Giesler it is hoped that the parent body will consider San Francisco as fit material for competition in both the National Challenge and National Amateur Cups and our star players given consideration in the selection of United States teams.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA SOCCER ASSN. — 1948-49 SUMMARIES

By Harry H. Fairfield, Pittsburg Press, State Secretary

In addition to having the Morgan S.C., United States Open champion, as one of its members the West Penn Association has enjoyed its best season in history and in number of teams active, games played, and successful completion of numerous schedules ranks among the very best. The Association carries a comfortable cash balance into the 1949-50 season and will enjoy another good season opening in September.

The entry of West Penn teams into the National Open and National Amateur competitions has been very large. It is a matter of pride to West Penn that it is one of the staunchest supporters and highest revenue contributors to the U.S. Soccer Football Association. We are united in the belief that soccer in the U.S. is completely dependent on a strong national body.

WISCONSIN

By Joseph Kelly, Secretary

There is no senior league in Milwaukee although two local teams, Milwaukee Brewers and Richard Rich Tigers both play in the National League of Chicago.

There are four junior teams, Milwaukee Brewers, Croatian Eagles, Sheboygan and Juventus, which play preliminary games to the National League when the latter is played in Milwaukee.

NEW ENGLAND INTERCOLLEGIATE LEAGUE

By John Y. Squires, University of Connecticut, Secy.

In its twelfth season, members of this 15-team league played 98 league games. The Sampson Trophy significant of New England championship was awarded to the University of Connecticut, a team which has come up the hard way since 1937. In the past two seasons, this team has won 18 out of 20 matches.

Possibly the standout game of the season in the New England area was played at Storrs when Connecticut defeated Springfield, undefeated since 1940, on a goal by Center Forward Cleveland in the last two minutes of play. The final score was 3-2.

Harvard University, losing only to Springfield in an early season game, ranked second in the standing and should be a threat for the Trophy next season.

THE SAMPSON TROPHY

This trophy is the perpetual emblem of New England Intercollegiate Soccer League championship. It is presented each year to the team with the highest percentage of points on a basis of two for a win and one for a tie. Each team must play five to eight games to be eligible for the championship.

It was presented to the league by James M. Sampson, manager of soccer at Harvard University in 1934 when the league was founded and is of considerable value.

In eleven years of competition the trophy has been in the hands of seven out of the fifteen member colleges.

EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE SOCCER LEAGUE

Cornell University with a record of three victories and a pair of ties tops the final team standings in the Eastern Intercollegiate Soccer League's inaugural season. The Big Red won from Princeton, Army and Pennsylvania and had tie games with Navy and Harvard.

Harvard with a mark of five wins against one loss and one tie was second with Navy third. Harvard was defeated by Navy, 2 to 0 and tied Cornell, 3 to 3. Navy and Cornell played to a 2 to 2, deadlock and the Middies bowed to Pennsylvania, 2 to 1. The Penn team bowed only to Cornell and won from Navy, Princeton, Yale and was held to a, 2 to 2, tie by the Army outfit.

Tie games were scored as a half win and a half loss in the percentage ranking for the championship. In the initial season of the league, member colleges had to compete with at least five other members. Each member is required to play each other at least once every three years.

CORNELL SOCCER — 1948

By Ross H. (Jim) Smith, Coach

Cornell's 1948 soccer squad completed its first undefeated season in fifteen years, and in so doing emerged as champions of the Eastern Intercollegiate Soccer League. In compiling a record of six wins and three ties against some of the best soccer in the East, the Big Red scored a total of 28 goals against their opponents' nine.

Following an opening win over Champlain College (6-0), tie games were played with Navy (2-2) and Harvard (3-3), followed by wins over Princeton (5-0) and Army (3-0). Then came what proved to be in big game in league standing, a sparkling 3-0 victory over Pennsylvania. Completing the schedule was a victory over Colgate (1-0); a 2-2 tie with Penn State; and a 3-2 win at Syracuse.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY TEAM-EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE CHAMPION

Completing its first undefeated season in 15 years the Big Red defeated some of the best college soccer teams in the East. Included in the group are: back row, L to R—Balleau, Coe, Vorn, Holmes, Wise, Clark, Campbell, Robinson; third row, L to R—Latimer, Mathiewson, Care, Rose, Fahs, Camner, Assistant Manager, Pfeiffer; second row, L to R—Wi der, Stedje, Corbett, Bower, Sommerfield, Larabee, Albertson, Spiller, Orr; front row L to R—R.H.; Smith, coach; Cardiner, Sheinkman, McKinney, Derr, capt; Berman, Tappin, Molinet, Schwencke, Coffin, Manager Hunnington, Berman and Derr were named to the All-American squad.

At the annual meeting of the Coaches Association, Cornell was selected as the outstanding team in New York State, and was rated number three in the nation, behind Connecticut and Navy.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA CONFERENCE

The competition in the conference was hottest between U.S.F. and California—with U.S.F. twice downing the Bears for what proved to be their margin of victory. The Dons only loss was to the California Aggies when they dropped a close one 1-0. This is University of San Francisco's first undisputed championship since 1936. Center forward, Dick Baptista, paced the Dons with 11 goals scored.

The All-Conference team played U.S.F. at the end of the season and the latter won a hotly contested game 1-0 and were awarded medals by the San Francisco City Soccer League for the victory.

A two-session clinic was held and all phases of the game were demonstrated and discussed by various coaches and movies illustrating the fundamentals were shown. Among those taking part was Frank Zanazzi, four years trainer for the Shrine West football team and twice, 1932 and 1936, trainer for the U.S. Olympic teams.

METROPOLITAN INTERCOLLEGIATE LEAGUE

By Dr. Carlton H. Reilly, Brooklyn College
Professor of Health and Physical Education

My opinion is that all the teams in the league will be stronger next Fall and that within the next three or four years our teams will compare favorably with teams in any other area.

Because of the fact that only Brooklyn College was a member of the U.S. Intercollegiate Soccer Association it was not possible for us to have the coaches of the various teams in our league send in recommendations for the All-American team. It is significant that Jerry Maher of Brooklyn and John Deery of St. John's were invited to represent the All-New York State team in its game with the College All-American team.

I believe that Irving Heller, Fred Goldhirsch and Politzer of C.C.N.Y.; Gene Greenwald and Paul Fleischman of Queens; John Deery of St. John's; Jerry Mahrer, Jack Russman and Henry Sher of Brooklyn; Christion Christiansen, Anthony Tersano, and George Mahl of Pratt would prove to be valuable additions to any college team. Of this group, Deery and Mahrer are definitely All-American material.

1948 OSCAR AWARD

REFEREE JIMMY WALDER

By Ray Kelly, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin

Jimmy Walder

When the National Soccer Coaches Association tagged Jimmy Walder, a Philadelphia referee, as their "Man of the Year," players, officials and fans were aware that the award was not premature.

Dean of American referees because of his 63 years, also because he might have written the soccer laws so thoroughly does he know the game. Born in the English hamlet of Dewsbury he came here 45 years ago and for two years before becoming a referee he played as an amateur on a professional combination.

Becoming a whistle-tooter was quite an accident. With nothing better to do on a bright afternoon he decided to find a game and do a little kibitzing from the sidelines. He found a location at the Philadelphia Boys Club but the two 'teen-age teams weren't playing because they didn't have anyone to settle arguments. Being a crowd of one on the sidelines he was drafted for the refereeing job.

That was 39 years, 4,000 games and 35,000 miles ago. The mileage is the estimated distance Jimmy has hoofed it around the soccer pitches since the Lighthouse debut. It would be expected, after such a pounding, that his feet would be in sad shape but he still has a perfect understanding.

He was one of the venturesome group which organized the United States Referees Association in 1913. For 13 years he held down the job of secretary-treasurer and the remuneration for this job was exactly nil.

Jimmy has been the arbiter in two National open cup finals, countless National Amateur Cup and 18 inter-country games and despite the thousands of dollars received for his services his banking account shows no profit for it has all filtered back into the sport.

During the span of his service he has had both player and fan trouble but even the rough players give a second thought before trying to put anything over on this veteran of the whistle. His honesty, ability and integrity has never been questioned.

Like all dyed-in-the-wool soccerites, Walder believes there is a bright future for the sport in this country. "We have the best material in the world here" he says, "One of these days the game will catch the fancy of the American kids and then you'll see the United States more than hold its own with any of the classy foreign combinations.

Jimmy expects to be around still tooting the whistle when this happens, because at the age of 63 he hasn't the faintest idea of hanging up his shoes." I'm having too much fun", he explains.

PREVIOUS OSCAR AWARDS

1. Ten years or more as a player, coach or official. School, college or professional soccer men are eligible.

2. Must have done outstanding work in promoting soccer.
3. Does not have to be a member of this association.

THE ATLANTIC CUP

Located last year in New York where it had been left by the hurriedly departing S.S. Bremen in 1939 the Atlantic Cup will attract at least 50 entries to the competition which will get under way during the Fall.

Representatives of seamen's service groups of several nations along with delegates of the YMCA Seamen's House and the United Seamen's Service completed plans for a revival of the tournament. The committee will have headquarters in New York but games will be played in ports all over the world whenever two competing vessels are in the same harborage.

S.S. MAURETANIA COPS A CUP

William Simpson, British Merchant Navy Welfare Officer (left) accepts the Philip Morris Trophy from Anthony Hans, representing the cigaret company for the British Merchant Navy Soccer League.

In addition to the United States six other nations, Belgium, Denmark, Great Britain, the Netherlands, Norway and Sweden will compete for the trophy.

A qualification for entry to the competition is that a ship must sail, at least once, from a seaboard port between New Orleans and Montreal before June 30, 1950 and a competitor must play at least eight opponents. Standings will be computed on a percentage basis.

To prevent padding of lineups a rule provides that a player must have served six months at sea.

JOSEPH TRINER INTERNATIONAL CUP

By George E. Fishwick, Editor, National Soccer News

Soccer's newest trophy, the Joseph Triner International Cup, possibly the only trophy donated for international competition, is now in its third year of competition.

The trophy was donated by Joseph Triner, past president of the U.S.S.F.A. and present Illinois Soccer Commission chairman, at the 1947 convention. The intent was to match the champions of the United States against the Canadian champions for the North American crown.

Due to the late finishes of the U.S. National Open championships in 1947 and 1948 it was not possible to carry through with this idea. In 1947 St. Louis All-Stars were named to play the Toronto All-Stars for the title. Toronto won the series with a 3-2 victory in St. Louis following a 3-3 tie in Toronto. In 1948 the Chicago National League All-Stars were granted the privilege of defending the United States interests and brought the trophy back here after defeating the Carsteel F.C. of Montreal, Canadian National Open champion, 3-1 in Chicago following a 3-3 tie in Montreal.

Rules of the competition provides that the country winning the trophy three years in succession will become the permanent custodian of the trophy. The donor will then offer another trophy for competition. The inscription on this magnificent piece of silverware reads "Joe Triner International Soccer Cup. United States vs. Canada. Allies in War and Sport Competitors in Peace. May the Better Team Win".

The penalty law requiring the goalkeeper to remain on the goal line came into force in Sept. 1905. The present law making it compulsory for the goalkeeper to stand still on the goal line until the kick is taken came into vogue in 1929. Previous to 1905 the goalkeeper used to advance towards the ball at the whistle.

ENGLISH TEAMS

1905 — THE PILGRIMS

Because of public outcry against the brutality of American College football and President Theodore Roosevelt's invitation to the leading football experts to visit Washington for discussions for the modification of the game, the Pilgrims, selected from the leading English amateur clubs, were invited to make a tour of the United States and Canada. The prime object of the tour, which was first by a British team and highly successful, was to popularise the sport with the colleges.

The team which included several international players was, J. D. Barnesdale, J. Bryning, C. Copeland, F. Fletcher, Sir Charles Kirkpatrick, F.S. Malmsiey, W. H. McNuttal, Fred Milne, capt.; A. R. Milton, J. E. Raine, E. W. Story, Vivian Woodward, F. O. Wright.

The invaders played 23 games of which 21 were won and two lost and games were staged in Montreal, Quebec, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Hamilton, Berlin, Rosedale, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York, Fall River and Boston.

Many college players were used in the American lineups but the only complete team of collegiates, the University of Pennsylvania, was fielded in Philadelphia.

Before sailing for England on Oct. 26, Fred Milne and Vivian Woodward, one of the greatest center forwards to play in England, were invited to the White House by President Roosevelt for a discussion of the sport.

GOALS

LAWS OF THE GAME

U.S.S.F.A. Rule 49. The Laws of the Game as promulgated by the Federation Internationale de Football Association shall come into force at the beginning of the season next ensuing.

LAW 1 — THE FIELD OF PLAY

(1) Dimensions. The field of play shall be rectangular, its length being not more than 130 yards nor less than 100 yards and its breadth not more than 100 yards nor less than 50 yards. (In International Matches the length shall be not more than 120 yards nor less than 110 yards and the breadth not more than 80 yards nor less than 70 yards.) The length shall in all cases exceed the breadth.

U.S.S.F.F. CHALLENGE CUP. Length, 110-120 yards. Breadth, 70-80 yards.

AMATEUR CUP. Length, 105-120 yards. Breadth, 60-80 yards.

Where the field of play is less than the minimum allowed but only slightly varying in size special permission to play may be obtained.

Divisional semi-finals, divisional finals and grand final games must be played on fields of proper dimensions.

COLLEGIATE. Length, 100-120 yards. Breadth, 55-75 yards. Suggested for uniformity 120 x 75 yards.

(2) Marking. The field of play shall be marked with distinctive lines, not more than 5 inches in width, not by a V-shaped rut, in accordance with the plan, the longer boundary lines being called the touch-lines and the shorter lines the goal-lines. A flag on a post not less than 5 ft. high and having a non-pointed top, shall be placed at each corner; a similar flag-post may be placed opposite the half-way line on each side of the field of play, not less than 1 yard outside the touch-line. A half-way line shall be marked out across the field of play. The centre of the field of play shall be indicated by a suitable mark and a circle with a 10 yards radius shall be marked round it.

(3) The Goal-Area. At each end of the field of play two lines shall be drawn at right-angles to the goal-line, 6 yards from each goal-post. These shall extend into the field of play for a distance of 6 yards and shall be joined by a line drawn parallel with the goal-line. Each of the spaces enclosed by these lines and the goal-line shall be called a goal-area.

(4) The Penalty-Area. At each end of the field of play two lines shall be drawn at right-angles to the goal-line, 18 yards from each goal-post. These shall extend into the field of play for a distance of 18 yards and shall be joined by a line drawn parallel with the goal-line. Each of the spaces enclosed by these lines and the goal-line shall be called a penalty area. A suitable mark shall be made within each penalty-area, 12 yards from the mid-point of the goal-line, measured along an undrawn line at right angles thereto. These shall be the penalty-kick marks. From each penalty-kick mark an arc of a circle, having a radius of 10 yards, shall be drawn outside the penalty-area.

(5) The Corner Area. From each corner-flag post a quarter circle, having a radius of 1 yard, shall be drawn inside the field of play.

(6) The Goals. The goals shall be placed on the centre of each goal-line and shall consist of two upright posts, equidistant from the corner-flags and 8 yards apart (inside measurement), joined by a horizontal cross-bar the longer edge of which shall be 8 ft. from the ground. The width and depth of the goal-posts and the width and depth of the cross-bars shall not exceed 5 in.

Nets may be attached to the posts, cross-bars and grounded behind the goals. They should be appropriately supported and be so placed as to allow the goal-keeper ample room.

LAW 2. — THE BALL

The ball shall be spherical; the outer casing shall be of leather and no material shall be used in its construction which might prove dangerous to the players. The circumference of the ball shall not be more than 28 in. nor less than 27 in. The weight of the ball at the start of the game shall not be more than 16 oz. nor less than 14 oz.

COLLEGE. To ensure uniformity only certain brand balls, approved by their own association, are recognized as official playing balls.

LAW 3. — NUMBER OF PLAYERS

The game shall be played by two teams each consisting of not more than eleven players, one of whom shall be the goal-keeper. One of the other players may change places with the goalkeeper during the match provided notice be given to the Referee before such change is made. Except in a match played under the Rules of a Competition, substitutes may be allowed to replace players receiving injuries during a game, subject to this arrangement being agreed upon by both teams before the start of the match. (An International Match in which one of the four British Associations is playing is deemed a match under the rules of a competition.)

Punishment. If without notifying the referee, a player changes to goalkeeper during the game, and then handles the ball within the penalty-area, a penalty-kick shall be awarded. Any player leaving the field during the progress of the game (except through accident) without the consent of the Referee shall be deemed guilty of ungentlemanly conduct.

U.S.S.F.A. CHALLENGE & AMATEUR CUPS.

1. A maximum of four (4) substitutes shall be allowed at any time during the game. (This includes regular and overtime periods).
2. Substitution can only be made when the ball is out of play.
3. Substitutes must report to the referee, giving their full names, before being allowed to participate.
4. A player who has been substituted for can return to the same game.
5. A player ordered from the field of play by the referee can be substituted for but cannot again return to the game himself.

COLLEGE. Five (5) substitutions may be made during a game and three (3) players may be resubstituted once during a game, these resubstitutions not counting as any one of the substitutions.

LAW 4. — PLAYER'S EQUIPMENT

A player shall not wear anything which is dangerous to another player. Boots must conform to the following standard: all bars and studs must be made of leather or soft rubber; nails shall be driven in flush with the leather or rubber; bars shall be transverse and flat, not less than half-an-inch in width, and they shall extend for the total width of the boot and be rounded at the corners; studs shall be round in plan, neither conical nor pointed, and not less than half-an-inch in diameter; combined studs and bars may be worn provided the whole conforms to the general requirements of this Law; bars and studs on the soles or heels shall not project more than half-an-inch. Metal plates, even though covered with leather or rubber, shall not be worn.

(N.B.—The usual equipment of a player consists of a jersey or shirt, short trousers, stockings and boots. A goalkeeper must wear colors which distinguish him from the other players.)

Punishment. For any infringement of this Law, the player at fault shall be sent off the field of play temporarily. He shall not return without first reporting to the Referee, who shall satisfy himself that the player's equipment is in order; the player shall only re-enter the game at a moment when the ball has ceased to be in play.

LAW 5. — REFEREES

A Referee shall be appointed to officiate in each game. He shall:

(a) Enforce the Laws and decide any disputed point. His decision on point of fact connected with the play shall be final so far as the result of the game is concerned. His jurisdiction begins from the time he signals for the kick-off, and his power of penalising shall extend to offences committed when play has been temporarily suspended or when the ball is out of play. He shall, however, refrain from penalising in cases where he is satisfied that by doing so he would be giving an advantage to the offending team.

(b).Keep a record of the game; act as timekeeper and allow the full or agreed time, adding thereto all time lost through accident or other cause.

(COLLEGE. The Referee is not responsible for timekeeping. He signals the timekeeper at the commencement of each period and the start and end of any suspension of play. The timekeeper uses a noise making instrument to signal the expiration of time.)

(c) Have discretionary power to stop the game for any infringement of the Laws and to suspend or terminate the game whenever, by reason of the elements, interference by spectators, or other cause, he deems such stoppage necessary. In such a case he shall report the matter to the National or Affiliated Association under whose jurisdiction the game was played, within two days (Sundays not included). Reports will be deemed to be made when received in the ordinary course of post.

(d) Have discretionary power, from the time he enters the field of play, to caution any player guilty of misconduct or ungentlemanly behaviour and, if he persists, to suspend him from further participation in the game. In such cases the Referee shall send the name of the offender to the National or Affiliated Association concerned, within two days after the occurrence (Sundays not included). Reports will be deemed to be made when received in the ordinary course of post.

(e) Allow no person other than the players and linesmen to enter the field of play without his permission.

(f) Stop the game if, in his opinion, a player has been seriously injured; have the player removed as soon as possible from the field of play, and immediately resume the game. If a player is slightly injured, the game shall not be stopped until the ball has ceased to be in play. A player who is able to go to the touch or goal-line for attention of any kind, shall not be treated on the field of play.

(g) Have discretionary power to suspend from further participation in the game, without previous caution, a player guilty of violent conduct.

LAW 6. — LINESMEN

Two Linesmen shall be appointed, whose duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to indicate when the ball is out of play and which side is entitled to the corner-kick, goal-kick or throw-in. They shall also assist the Referee to control the game in accordance with the Laws. In the event of undue interference or improper conduct by a Linesman, the Referee shall dispense with his services and arrange for a substitute to be appointed. (The matter shall be reported by the Referee to the National or Affiliated Association having jurisdiction over the offending Linesman.) The Linesmen should be equipped with flags by the Club on whose ground the match is played.

LAW 7. — DURATION OF THE GAME

The duration of the game shall be two equal periods of 45 minutes, unless otherwise mutually agreed upon, subject to the following: (a) Allowance shall be made in either period for all time lost through accident or other cause, the amount of which shall be a matter for the discretion of the Referee; (b) Time shall be extended to permit of a penalty-kick being taken at or after the expiration of the normal period in either half.

At half-time the interval shall not exceed five minutes except by consent of the Referee.

U.S.S.F.A. NATIONAL JUNIOR CHALLENGE CUP. Rule 7. The duration of the game shall be sixty (60) minutes divided into four (4) equal quarters of fifteen (15) minutes each and there shall be no intermission between the first and second and the third and fourth quarters.

COLLEGE. Played in four (4) equal periods of 22 minutes each. One minute interval between the first and second periods and the third and fourth periods to allow for change of ends. Interval at half-time, between the second and third periods, not to exceed ten (10) minutes.

SCHOLASTIC. Duration of game sixty (60) minutes divided into four (4) equal periods of fifteen (15) minutes each.

LAW 8. — THE START OF PLAY

(a) At the beginning of the game, choice of ends and the kick-off shall be decided by the toss of a coin. The team winning the toss shall have the option of choice of ends or the kick-off.

The Referee, having given a signal, the game shall be started by a player taking a place-kick (i.e., a kick at the ball while it is stationary on the ground in the centre of the field of play) into his opponents' half of the field of play. Every player shall be in his own half of the field and every player of the team opposing that of the kicker shall remain not less than 10 yards from the ball until it is kicked-off; it shall not be deemed in play until it has travelled the distance of its own circumference. The kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has been played or touched by another player.

(b) After a goal has been scored, the game shall be restarted in like manner by a player of the team losing the goal.

(c) After half-time; when restarting after half-time, ends shall be changed and the kick-off shall be taken by a player of the opposite team to that of the player who started the game.

Punishment. For any infringement of this Law, the kick-off shall be retaken, except in the case of the kicker playing the ball again before it has been touched or played by another player; for this offence, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred. A goal shall not be scored direct from a kick-off.

(d) After any other temporary suspension; when restarting the game after a temporary suspension of play from any cause not mentioned elsewhere in these Laws, provided that immediately prior to the suspension the ball has not passed over the touch or goal-lines, the Referee shall drop the ball at the place where it was when play was suspended and it shall be deemed in play when it has touched the ground; if, however, it goes over the touch or goal-lines after it has been dropped by the Referee, but before it is touched by a player, the Referee shall again drop it. A player shall not play the ball until it has touched the ground. If this section of the Law is not complied with the Referee shall again drop the ball.

LAW 9. — BALL IN AND OUT OF PLAY

The ball is out of play:

(a) When it has wholly crossed the goal-line or touch-line, whether on the ground or in the air.

(b) When the game has been stopped by the Referee.

The ball is in play at all other times from the start of the match to the finish including:

(a) If it rebounds from a goal-post, cross-bar or corner-flag post into the field of play.

(b) If it rebounds off either the Referee or Linesmen when they are in the field of play.

(c) In the event of a supposed infringement of the Laws, until a decision is given.

LAW 10. — METHOD OF SCORING

Except as otherwise provided by these Laws, a goal is scored when the whole of the ball has passed over the goal-line, between the goal-posts and under the the cross-bar, provided it has not been thrown, carried or propelled by hand or arm, by a player of the attacking side. Should the cross-bar become displaced for any reason during the game, and the ball cross the goal-line at a point which, in the opinion of the Referee, is below where the cross-bar should have been, he shall award a goal.

The team scoring the greater number of goals during a game shall be the winner; if no goals, or an equal number of goals are scored, the game shall be termed a "draw."

LAW 11. — OFF-SIDE

(20 diagrams illustrating points in off-side follow at the end of these Laws of the Game.)

A player is off-side if he is nearer his opponents' goal-line than the ball at the moment the ball is played unless:

(a) He is in his own half of the field of play.

(b) There are two of his opponents nearer to their own goal-line than he is.

(c) The ball last touched an opponent or was last played by him.

(d) He receives the ball direct from a goal-kick, a corner-kick, a throw-in, or when it is dropped by the Referee.

Punishment. For an infringement of this Law, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred.

A player in an off-side position shall not be penalised unless, in the opinion of the Referee, he is in interference with the play or with an opponent, or is seeking to gain an advantage by being in an off-side position.

LAW 12. — FOULS AND MISCONDUCT

A player shall be penalized if he intentionally:

(a) Kicks, strikes, attempts to kick or strike, or jumps at an opponent.

(b) Trips, including throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by use of the legs, or by stooping in front of or behind him.

(c) Handles the ball, i.e., carries, strikes or propels it with the hand or arm. (This does not apply to the goalkeeper within his own penalty area.)

(d) Holds or pushes an opponent with his hand, or with any part of his arm.

(e) Charges in a violent or dangerous manner or charges an opponent from behind unless the latter be obstructing.

(f) Charges fairly, i.e., with the shoulder, when the ball is not within playing distance of the players concerned and they are definitely not attempting to play it.

(g) Charges a goalkeeper except when he is:

- (i) holding the ball, or
- (ii) obstructing an opponent, or
- (iii) has passed outside the goal area.

(h) When playing as goalkeeper, carries the ball, i.e., takes more than four steps while holding the ball, without bouncing it on the ground.

(i) Joins his team after the game commences or returns to the field while the game is in progress, without reporting to the Referee.

(j) Plays in a manner considered by the Referee to be dangerous, e.g., attempting to kick the ball when held by the goalkeeper.

(k) Commits ungentlemanly conduct which shall be deemed to include:

- (i) Persistent infringement of the laws of the game, and
- (ii) Showing, by word or action, dissent from any decision given by the Referee.

Punishment:

1. Outside the penalty area.

For any infringement of a, b, c, d, e, a direct free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposite team from the place where the infringement occurred.

2. Inside the penalty area.

(A) For any infringement of a, b, c, d, e, by the attacking team the punishment shall be a direct free-kick for the defending team from the place where the infringement occurred. For an infringement of h, the punishment shall be an indirect free-kick.

(B) For any infringement of a, b, c, d, e, by the defending team, the punishment shall be a penalty-kick. A penalty-kick can be awarded irrespective of the position of the ball, if in play, at the time an offence within the penalty area is committed, but it shall be awarded only for the following nine offences, intentionally committed by a player of the defending side within the penalty area:

- (1) Handling the ball.
- (2) Holding an opponent.
- (3) Striking or attempting to strike an opponent.
- (4) Pushing an opponent.
- (5) Tripping an opponent.
- (6) Kicking or attempting to kick an opponent.
- (7) Jumping at an opponent.
- (8) Charging violently, or in a dangerous manner.
- (9) Charging from behind.

(C) For any infringement of g the punishment shall be an indirect free-kick.

3. Inside or outside the penalty area.

For any infringement of f or j, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposite team from the place where the infringement occurred.

4. For any infringement of i the offending player shall be cautioned and, if the game has been stopped, it shall be restarted by the Referee dropping the ball at the place where the infringement occurred, but if the player commits a more important offence he shall be penalized according to that portion of the Law infringed.
5. For any infringement of k the offending player shall be cautioned and an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposite team from the place where the infringement occurred.

A player shall be ordered from the Field of Play if he:

1. Persists in misconduct after having received a caution.
2. Is guilty of violent conduct, i.e., using foul or abusive language, or if, in the opinion of the Referee, he is guilty of serious foul play.

If play be stopped by reason of a player being ordered from the field for an offence without a separate breach of the Law having been committed, the game shall be resumed by an indirect free-kick to be taken by a player of the opposite team from the place where the infringement occurred.

LAW 13. — FREE-KICK

Free-kicks shall be classified under two heads: "Direct" (from which a goal can be scored direct against the offending side), and "Indirect" (from which a goal cannot be scored unless the ball has been played or touched by a player other than the kicker before passing through the goal).

When a direct or indirect free-kick is being taken, a player of the opposite side shall not approach within 10 yards of the ball until it is in play, unless he be standing on his own goal-line, between the goal-posts. If a player of the opposing team approaches within 10 yards before the kick is taken the Referee shall delay the taking of the kick until the Law is complied with. The ball shall not be deemed in play until it has travelled the distance of its own circumference. The ball must be stationary when the kick is taken, and after taking the kick, the kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player. In the case of a free-kick being awarded to the defending side in the penalty area, the goalkeeper shall not receive the ball into his hands in order that he may thereafter kick it into play; the ball must be kicked direct into play beyond the penalty-area, and if this part of the Law is not complied with the kick shall be retaken.

Punishment:

If the kicker, after taking the free-kick, plays the ball a second time before it has been touched or played by another player an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the spot where the infringement occurred.

LAW 14. — PENALTY-KICK

A penalty-kick shall be taken from the penalty-mark and, when it is being taken, all players, with the exception of the player taking the kick, and the opposing goalkeeper, shall be within the field of play but outside the penalty-area, and at least 10 yards from the penalty-mark. The opposing goalkeeper must stand (without moving his feet) on his own goal-line, between the goal-posts, until the ball is kicked. The player taking the kick must kick the ball forward; he shall not play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player. The ball shall be deemed in play directly it is kicked, i.e., traveled the distance of its circumference, and a goal may be scored direct from such a penalty-kick. If the ball touches the goalkeeper before passing between the posts, when a penalty-kick is being taken at or after the expiration of half-time or full-time, it does not nullify a goal. If necessary, time of play shall be extended at half-time or full-time to allow a penalty-kick to be taken.

Punishment:

(a) For any infringement by the defending team the kick shall be retaken, if a goal has not resulted.

(b) For any infringement by the attacking team, other than by the player taking the kick the kick shall be retaken, if a goal has resulted.

(c) For any infringement by the player taking the penalty-kick, a player of the opposing team shall take an indirect free-kick from the spot where the infringement occurred.

LAW 15. — THROW-IN

When the whole of the ball passes over a touch-line, either on the ground or in the air, it shall be thrown in from the point where it crossed the line, in any direction, by a player of the team opposite to that of the player who last touched it. The thrower at the moment of delivering the ball must face the field of play and part of each foot shall be either on or outside the touch-line. The thrower shall use both hands and shall deliver the ball from over his head. The ball shall be in play immediately it is thrown, but the thrower shall not again play the ball until it has been touched or played by another player. A goal shall not be scored direct from a throw-in.

COLLEGE. When a throw-in is being taken, no opponents shall approach within ten (10) Yards of the player taking the throw, until the ball has been put in play (Ball released by thrower)

Punishment:

If after warning from an official an opponent approaches within ten (10) yards of the ball before it has been put in play, an indirect free-kick shall be awarded to the team throwing in.

Punishment:

(a) If the ball is improperly thrown in the throw-in shall be taken by a player of the opposing team.

(b) If the thrower plays the ball a second time before it has been touched or played by another player, an indirect free-kick shall be taken by a player of the opposing team from the place where the infringement occurred.

LAW 16. — GOAL-KICK

When the whole of the ball passes over the goal-line excluding that portion between the goal-posts, either in the air or on the ground, having last been played by one of the attacking team, it shall be kicked direct into play beyond the penalty-area, from a point within that half of the goal-area nearest to where it crossed the line, by a player of the defending team. A goalkeeper shall not receive the ball into his hands from a goal-kick in order that he may thereafter kick it into play. If the ball is not kicked beyond the penalty-area, i.e. direct into play, the play shall be retaken. The kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has touched or been played by another player. A goal shall not be scored direct from such a kick. Players of the team opposing that of the player taking the goal-kick shall remain outside the penalty area whilst the kick is being taken.

Punishment:

If a player taking a goal-kick plays the ball a second time after it has passed beyond the penalty-area, but before it has touched or been played by another player, an indirect free-kick shall be awarded to the opposing team, to be taken from the place where the infringement occurred.

LAW 17. — CORNER-KICK

When the whole of the ball passes over the goal-line, excluding that portion between the goal-posts, either in the air or on the ground, having last been played by one of the defending team, a member of the attacking team shall take a kick from within the quarter-circle at the nearest corner flag-post, which must not be removed, i.e. a corner-kick. A goal may be scored direct from such a kick. Players of the team opposing that of the player taking the corner-kick shall not approach within 10 yards of the ball until it is in play, i.e. it has travelled the distance of its own circumference, nor shall the kicker play the ball a second time until it has been touched or played by another player.

Punishment:

For an infringement of this Law, an indirect free-kick shall be awarded to the opposing team, to be taken from the place where the infringement occurred.

DIAGRAMS

ILLUSTRATING POINTS IN CONNECTION WITH OFF-SIDE

NOTE:—The Players marked (X) are attacking the goal, and those marked are defending

No. 1. OFF-SIDE.

CLEAR PASS TO ONE OF SAME SIDE.

A has run the ball up, and having in front passes to B. B is off-side because there are not two opponents between him and the goal-line when the ball is passed by A.

If B waits for to fall back before he shoots, this will not put him in play, because it does not alter his position with relation to A at the moment the ball was passed by A.

No. 2. NOT OFF-SIDE.

CLEAR PASS TO ONE OF SAME SIDE (continued).

A has run the ball up, and having in front passes across the field. B runs from position 1 to position 2. B is not off-side because at the moment the ball was passed by A he was behind the ball, and had two opponents between him and the goal-line.

No. 3. OFF-SIDE.
CLEAR PASS TO ONE OF SAME SIDE (continued).

A and B make a passing run up the wing. A passes the ball to B who cannot shoot because he has A^2 in front. A then runs from position 1 to position 2 where he receives the ball from B. A is off-side because he had not two opponents between him and the goal-line when the ball was played by B.

No. 4. OFF-SIDE.
RUNNING BACK FOR BALL.

A centres the ball. B runs back from position 1 to position 2, and then dribbles between A and B^1 and scores. B is off-side because he had not two opponents between him and the goal-line at the moment the ball was played by A.

No. 5. OFF-SIDE.
RUNNING BACK FOR BALL (continued)

A makes a high shot at goal, and the wind and screw carry the ball back. B runs from position 1 to position 2 and scores. B is off-side because he had not two opponents between him and the goal-line at the moment the ball was last played by A.

No. 6. OFF-SIDE.
SHOT AT GOAL RETURNED BY GOAL-KEEPER.

A shoots at goal. The ball is played by B and B obtains possession, but slips and passes the ball to F who scores. F is off-side because he is in front of B, and when the ball was passed by B he had not two opponents between him and the goal-line.

SHOT AT GOAL RETURNED BY GOAL-KEEPER (continued).

A shoots at goal. The ball is played out by B but B obtains possession and scores, B has not two opponents between him and the goal-line when the ball is played by A, but he is not off-side because the ball has been last played by an opponent.

No. 8. OFF-SIDE.
BALL REBOUNDED FROM GOAL POSTS OR GOAL BAR

A shoots for goal and the ball rebounds from the goal-post into play. B secures the ball and scores. B is off-side because the ball is last played by A, a player of his own side, and when A played it B had not two opponents between him and the goal-line, and was in front of A.

No. 9. OFF-SIDE.

BALL REBOUNDED FROM GOAL POSTS OR GOAL BAR (continued).

A shoots for goal and the ball rebounds from the cross-bar into play. A follows up from position 1 to position 2, and then passes to B who has run up on the other side. B is off-side because the ball is last played by A, a player of his own side, and when A played it B had not two opponents between him and the goal-line, and was in front of A. If A had scored himself at the second attempt, instead of passing to B, it would have been a goal.

No. 10. NOT OFF-SIDE. BALL TOUCHING AN OPPONENT.

A shoots at goal. runs from position 1 to position 2 to intercept the ball, but it glances off his foot to B who scores. B is not off-side because, although he has not two opponents between him and the goal-line, the ball was last played by an opponent.

No. 11. OFF-SIDE. OBSTRUCTING THE GOAL-KEEPER.

A shoots for goal and scores. B however obstructs so that he cannot get at the ball. The goal must be disallowed, because B is in an off-side position and may not touch the ball himself, nor in any way whatever interfere with an opponent.

No. 12. OFF-SIDE.
OBSTRUCTING THE GOAL-KEEPER (continued).

A shoots for goal. B runs in while the ball is in transit and prevents playing it properly. B is off-side because he is in front of A and has not two opponents between him and the goal-line when A plays the ball. When in this position B may not touch the ball himself, nor in any way whatever interfere with an opponent.

No. 13. OFF-SIDE.
OBSTRUCTING AN OPPONENT OTHER THAN THE GOAL-KEEPER.

A shoots for goal. B prevents running in to intercept the ball. B is off-side because he is in front of A and has not two opponents between him and the goal-line when A plays the ball. When in this position B may not touch the ball himself, nor in any way whatever interfere with an opponent.

No. 14. OFF-SIDE.
AFTER A CORNER KICK.

A takes a corner kick and the ball goes to B. B shoots for goal and as the ball is passing through F touches it. F is off-side because after the corner kick has been taken the ball is last played by B, a player of his own side, and when B played it F had not two opponents between him and the goal-line.

No. 15. NOT OFF-SIDE.
AFTER A CORNER KICK (continued).

A takes a corner kick and the ball goes to B who puts it through goal. B has only one opponent between him and the goal-line, but he is not off-side because a player is not out of play when a corner kick is taken.

No. 16. NOT OFF-SIDE.
AFTER A CORNER KICK (continued).

A takes a corner kick and the ball glances off and goes to B, who puts it through goal. B has only one opponent between him and the goal-line, but he is not off-side because the ball was last played by an opponent.

No. 17. OFF-SIDE.
AFTER A THROW-IN FROM THE TOUCH-LINE.

A throws to B and then runs from position 1 to position 2. B passes the ball to A in position 2. A is off-side because he has not two opponents between him and the goal-line when the ball is passed forward to him by B.

No. 18. NOT OFF-SIDE.
AFTER A THROW-IN FROM THE TOUCH-LINE (continued)

A throws the ball to B. Although B has not two opponents between him and the goal-line, he is not off-side because a player is not out of play when a throw-in is taken.

No. 19. OFF-SIDE.

A PLAYER CANNOT PUT HIMSELF ON-SIDE BY RUNNING BACK INTO HIS OWN HALF OF THE FIELD OF PLAY.

If A is in his opponents' half of the field of play, and is off-side in position when B last played the ball, he cannot put himself on-side by moving back into his own half of the field of play.

No. 20. NOT OFF-SIDE.

A PLAYER WITHIN HIS OWN HALF OF THE FIELD OF PLAY NOT OFF-SIDE WHEN HE ENTERS HIS OPPO-NENTS' HALF OF THE FIELD OF PLAY.

If A is in his own half of the field of play he is on-side, although there were not two opponents nearer their own goal-line when B last played the ball. A is therefore on-side when he enters his opponents' half of the field of play.

No. 21 NOT OFF-SIDE.

A throws the ball to B. Although B has not two opponents between him and the goal-line, he is not off-side because a player is not out of play when a throw-in is taken.
